KARNATAKA has retained the top position in the innovation index for a second year in a row, a pointer to its strength in maintaining the leadership position. The state's innovation score of 42.5 was way above the average score of 25.35 among the major states. Maharashtra was in second place with a score of 38 and Bihar in the last place with just 14.5. Among City States and Union Territories, Delhi topped list.

Skilled human resource, ease of doing business, legalities, knowledge dissemination, health and education are some of the parameters considered to decide the ranking. The NITI Aayog's Innovation Index 2020 report, released on Wednesday, attributes Karnataka's top rank to the number of venture capital deals, information and communication technology exports, high foreign direct investment inflow among other factors.

"Karnataka is the leader in innovation. The top position has been confirmed again by the NITI Aayog's India Innovation Index 2020 ranking," said Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa. The state has maintained top ranking despite new indicators such as expenditure by states on R&D and new business registration being added as parameters this time, said Deputy CM Dr C N Ashwath Narayana, who also holds Information Technology portfolio.

The innovation index captures the trends and provides detailed analyses of the various factors that drive innovation at district, state and at the national level. P7

Day of democracy, says Prez Biden; US gets 1st woman V-P

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

JOE Biden, 78, took oath as the 46th President of the US on Wednesday around 10:15 pm IST, ending Donald Trump's controversial rule that lasted four years. Minutes before, Indian-origin Kamala Harris, 56, was sworn in as the first woman Vice President.

Biden was administered the oath of office by Chief Justice John Roberts at the West Front of the Capitol, the traditional location for presidential inaugural ceremonies, where a deadly violence took place just two weeks ago. The ceremony was held under the watch of 25,000 National Guards.

"This is America's Day. This is democracy's day. A day of history and hope," Biden said in his inaugural speech. "I will be president for all Americans. White supremacy, domestic terrorism we will defeat. I want every American to join me in this cause," he added.

Outgoing Vice President Mike Pence attended the ceremony, so did former presidents Barack Obama, George W Bush and Bill Clinton. As expected, Trump skipped the inauguration as he left the White House on the Marine One presidential helicopter along with his wife Melania, hours before Biden's inauguration.

Around 1,000 people attended the swearing-in ceremony, including Supreme Court justices and members of Congress, who were limited to just one guest each due to the pandemic.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi was among the first to congratulate Biden.

"My warmest congratulations to @JoeBiden on his assumption of office as President of the United States. I look forward to working with him to strengthen India-US strategic partnership," the Prime Minister tweeted

According to experts, the broad trajectory of the strategic and defence cooperation between India and the US will expand under Biden's presidency. The US is expected to continue its tough stance on China.

Before leaving the White House, Trump boasted he had "an amazing four years" and that it would not be a "long goodbye", hinting at his plan to contest in the next presidential election.

Meanwhile, some US media outlets reported that Trump might start a new political outfit, tentatively named the Patriot Party, as he was disgusted with Senate Republicans who will soon decide whether the ex-president should be convicted during his impeachment trial. P12

Trump did not mention Biden's name in his farewell video message. "This week we inaugurate a new administration and pray for its success in keeping America safe and prosperous," Trump said. "We extend our best wishes. And we also want them to have luck. A very important word," he added

Govt proposes to put farm laws on hold for two years to break the ice

Farmer unions to internally discuss offer before the next round of talks on Friday

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi/Chandigarh

THE tenth round of talks with the protesting farmers on Wednesday opened a window of opportunity to break the deadlock on the contentious farm laws with the Centre proposing to constitute a new committee as also keeping the laws on hold for two years or more and the farmers agreeing to consider them.

The two sides will meet again on Friday, when the farmers are expected to spell out their stand on the suggestions after holding consultations among themselves on Thursday.

The fact that the government came out with new proposals and the farmers agreed to examine them are being seen as signs of accommodation from both sides. Until Wednesday, the government's consistent stand was that it was ready to amend the laws while the farmers remained firm in their repeal-or-nothing demand.

Sources said the Centre, during the meeting, urged the farmers to consider its proposal for an hour separately. The two sides broke off into different rooms following which the farmer unions agreed to consider the offer. However, they insisted that their demand of repealing the laws still stands.

Krantikari Kisan Union president Darshan Pal said, "Just because we have decided to discuss this new proposal of the government and decided to hold a string of meetings tomorrow between ourselves does not mean that we have backtracked from our demand of a repeal of the three laws."

The opportunity to end the impasse comes days ahead of the crucial budget session of Parliament beginning on January 29. With the Opposition gathering ammunition to attack the government on the farm laws, the Centre appears to keen to resolve the stand-off before the session.

According to sources, Union Agriculture Minister Narendra Singh Tomar told the farmers that the Centre was even ready to file an affidavit in the Supreme Court on putting off the laws for an extended period to dispel any doubts in their minds. He also stressed that a consensus should be reached between the two sides before the meeting ends as it was the occasion of Guru Gobind Singh's Parkash Parv.

"There is some positive response from the government and a new offer was on the table. The unions accepted it and a final decision will be taken by the Sanyukt Kisan Morcha," Hannan Mollah of the All India Kisan Sabha said.

On the Centre's demand to call off the tractor rally, farmer unions refused to do so till an agreement is arrived at on repealing the farm laws. The Centre, according to sources, asked the farmers to approach the Supreme Court if it wanted a repeal. P9

Doctor dies 2 days after Covid shot

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Shivamogga /Bengaluru

IN the second such case in Karnataka in a span of three days, a person who was administered the Covishield vaccine two days earlier, died on Wednesday morning due to Myocardial Infarction. The Health Department, however, maintained that the death was not related to the vaccine. Meanwhile, Karnataka has crossed the one lakh mark for beneficiaries for the Covid-19 vaccination.

The deceased is Dr Jayaprakash (59), a well-known orthopaedic surgeon and owner of J P Hospital in Shivamogga. According to health department officials, he was given a jab on Monday after which he continued to work at the hospital. He taught students at a private medical college and also saw out-patients in his hospital. However, on Wednesday morning, he complained of chest pain and was rushed to hospital where he was declared brought dead, officials said.

District Health Officer Rajesh Suragihalli told TNIE that Dr Jayaprakash died due to cardiac arrest and it had nothing to do with the vaccine. "The central ministry has clearly stated that the doctor had died because of cardiac arrest and is not related to the vaccine," he said.

Meanwhile, 55 per cent of the targeted beneficiaries took the vaccine in the state on Wednesday, though some districts like Chitradurga, Dharwad and Koppal continued to show only about 28 per cent people coming forward to take the jab. P3

INCARCERATED in a disproportionate assets case, V K Sasikala, a close associate of former Tamil Nadu chief minister J Jayalalitha, was admitted to Bowring Hospital on Wednesday afternoon after she developed fever and lung infection, sources privy to the information told TNIE.

"Sasikala had fever, chest congestion and dry cough for more than a week. The prison doctors suspected lung infection and advised that she should be admitted to a hospital. She was taken to Bowring Hospital with police escort in the afternoon. She was admitted in the casualty section of the government hospital in Shivajinagar and underwent some tests, including for Covid-19," the sources said. She is being treated for SARI.

"Sasikala's Rapid Antigen Test and RT-PCR test for Covid are negative," said Dean and Director of Bowring Hospital, Dr Manoj Kumar. The hospital had earlier stated she was "stable with supportive measures, antibiotics and oxygen. On her arrival at the hospital, her oxygen saturation was 79 per cent". P7

Apex court rejects pleas against Aadhaar verdict

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Wednesday dismissed by 4:1 petitions seeking review of its verdict upholding the validity of the Aadhaar law.

"In our opinion, no case for review of judgment and order dated 26.09.2018 is made out," a five-judge Bench headed by Justice A M Khanwilkar said. "We hasten to add that change in the law or subsequent decision/judgment of a coordinate or larger Bench by itself cannot be regarded as a ground for review," the court noted.

However, Justice D Y Chandrachud allowed the petitions. He cited the fact that another Constitution bench, while hearing a case relating to the validity of Finance Act, 2017 (Rojer Mathew v South Indian Bank Ltd), had held that the Aadhaar judgment did not correctly lay down the law regarding what constitutes a 'Money Bill' under Article 110 of the Constitution.

"If these review petitions are to be dismissed and the larger bench reference in Rojer Mathew case were to disagree with the analysis of the majority opinion in Aadhaar judgment, it would have serious consequences .... As such, the present batch of review petitions should be kept pending until the larger bench decides the questions," he held.

'Raj Bhavan Chalo' protest by Congress against farm laws throws traffic out of gear

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THOUSANDS of Congress workers and farmers descended on the city on Wednesday to protest against the farm laws of the Centre. The Congress's Raj Bhavan Chalo saw several roads leading to the heart of the city jammed. Commuters to the airport, bus stands and offices, and ambulances were stuck on some roads for more than an hour.

Even flyovers were seen jampacked with vehicles, and people were seen angrily asking why the police and the government had not planned traffic diversions in a better way. Cab drivers said they couldn't reach their destinations on time causing losses as it took almost two hours to drop one passenger.

The protest, led by KPCC president D K Shivakumar, kicked off from the KSR Railway Station and the protesters marched to the Freedom Park. As thousands of party workers took to the streets, the police diverted vehicular movement in the Majestic area, the heart of the city and the busiest locality in the city in terms of traffic.

This led to traffic gridlock in the surrounding areas and the cascading effect was felt in other parts of the city too. The police blocked the flyover on Sheshadri Road and diverted vehicles coming from Goods Shed Road to Majestic. The vehicles which were diverted towards Upparpet police station, proceeded to Malleswaram and other areas in North Bengaluru. Due to the diversions, vehicles queued up on roads near Anand Rao Circle, Sheshadripuram, Malleswaram, Yeshwantpur, Upparpet, Race Course Road, KR Circle, and surrounding localities.

The traffic gridlock in the city centre had its impact on other important roads and highways. Passengers coming towards the city from the Kempegowda International Airport had to spend double the usual time on the Ballari Road. Hundreds of vehicles, especially cabs, made a beeline for the busy road. Also, as some farmers tried to bring their tractors inside the city, traffic was affected on Mysuru and Tumakuru Roads.

Ramesh, a cab driver, said he would have not taken out his car if he knew there would be diversions. "The traffic police had not issued any statements regarding today's (Wednesday's) diversions. I picked up a passenger from the railway station near Shantala Junction and the fare was Rs 80 to drop her near UB City. But I spent almost four times more on the diesel than usual and it took 90 minutes against the usual 30-35 minutes even during the rush hours," he said.

Cab drivers, who used to earn around Rs. 1,500 every day, got only Rs 500 as they spent most of their time and energy on the streets. "Generally, I make 10 trips on any given day. But I managed to get only five today, as two trips in the CBD took more than five hours," Sadiq Pasha, a driver, said.

Ramanna, an auto driver who lives near Ashoka Pillar, said he did three trips in the morning. "I had gone to drop a passenger from Basavanagudi to MS Building, at around 11 pm. It took me more than one hour to drop them. Seeing the traffic snarls, I decided to return home. I took my vehicle out only after 5 pm."

Train to KIA ran empty 11 times, ferried only one on 6 runs

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE euphoria over train connectivity to the Kempegowda International Airport (KIA) for prices as low as Rs 10 to Rs 15 and the massive buzz it generated on social media platforms has not translated into occupancy on the trains. A fortnight after launch, trains are going empty or with single-digit occupancy figures, an aspect which has stumped railway officials too.

Three new pairs of trains were launched on January 4 exclusively for KIA Halt station from KSR Railway Station and Yelahanka, and two existing trains were provided halts at the new station. Each train can accommodate 610 passengers, but the maximum number so far has been 149 and the minimum was zero. Yes! The trains have run without carrying any passengers 11 times, seven times towards the airport and four times in return. They also ran with just one passenger six times, generating a revenue of Rs 10 per trip, reveals statistics—from January 12 to January 18— collected by the TNIE from the South Western Railway Zone.

A senior railway official said that the Division was also examining the numerous reasons for this shocking low occupancy. "We plan to hold talks with the airport operator – Bengaluru International Airport Ltd – shortly and will see if we can tweak timings to some extent. We may change it by 15 minutes to half an hour so that airport employees as well as air passengers will make use of the these trains. At present, the timings have been put in place only to suit flyers."

Explaining the causes, the official said, "One reason could be that passengers do not want to handle luggage multiple times. For instance, a flyer needs to come by a taxi or personal vehicle to the station. The luggage needs to be transferred to the train and then again to the shuttle bus after reaching the halt station. Then, from the bus to the airport."

The official said there is a general trend of decreased occupancy on all forms of public transport due to the pandemic. "There is fear of getting on board public transport," he said.

Plans to run more trains to the airport have been shelved. "We will not introduce any more trains unless more people travel by them," he said. Bengaluru Divisional Railway Manager A K Verma expressed optimism that occupancy will get a boost in the course of time.

PETER VIDAL

21st January : Long-range Aquarian patterns remind me of the ancient tradition that when all the planets gather in this sign, there will be a huge deluge. The last time this occurred was in February 3101 BC, five thousand years ago. Maybe there'll be a little rain today. But then, of course, it all depends where you are!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Professional Ariens have high hopes, but the odds against them being satisfied are stronger than usual. The best way to get by is to concentrate on voluntary activities. There is no place for self-interest, for if you focus on what is best for you now, you won't be around to take up a new responsibility, later.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
The general drift of stars from the practical to the romantic, indicates that it will be your legendary love of beauty and the pleasures of the flesh which come to the fore. This is a time for self-indulgence, for a little bit of what you fancy. In all relationships there is one priority: keep talking.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
It's one thing to dream of great riches, but quite another actually to make your first million. Yet, if you are looking for ways to supplement your income, the answer may lie in the arts - or in an area connected to water. If there's an emotional glitch it could relate to events which took place four weeks ago.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
You're setting off on an entirely new cycle of romantic experience - whatever your age, sex or inclination. It is time to be in love, and your stars are leaving you little space for anything else. Remember, though, when you're in control, you owe it to loved ones to look after their interests.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Progress at work depends very much on how flexible you are in the face of vague instructions and uncertain commitments. This is not the time to embark on new undertakings or insist on punctuality and efficiency, especially not if you are wary of emotional entanglements.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Compromise is a virtue, as you know only too well. You might have to shift your ground on a major matter. Aside from that, this is a brilliant moment for taking on major new responsibilities - and receiving rewards. Maybe a family member will be ready with the help you need. That's the least you deserve!

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Please don't complain about the many complications which seem to be flooding your life at the moment. If only you could see what is really happening, you'd realise that you're being showered with opportunities. Some may come from an unexpected direction, perhaps from a long way away.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
It's a fine moment for declarations of romantic love. Many Scorpios will be writing poems to their loved ones. If you missed out on a recent invitation, now is the time to catch up. Don't worry about being sentimental - clichés are often the best way to persuade other people your feelings are genuine.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Swing into action, lay everything on the line and surprise everyone with your amazing skill and vitality. Family responsibilities should take first place, but, then, I'm sure partners will remind you of that. Try to find some time for a friend in need.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
As a Capricorn, you're not known for your romantic proclivities, but that's because you're shy, not because you lack feelings. In fact, at times like these, your emotions are likely to be highly visible. You'll even be ready to take a risk - when you sense that the moment is right.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
It is unlikely that even you could have anticipated what is now taking place in your private life. However, you may be too busy to worry about certain of the irrelevant frills which obsess other people. At work, you're into a new phase in which it's who you know that counts, so cultivate all personal contacts.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
There are certain phases in life when one either changes direction or misses a perfect opportunity. The additional factor at present is that all improvements may require a financial outlay. You've been handling your funds skillfully and you should soon begin to see the rewards.

Fear of the shot leads to poor turnout in Chamarajanagar, Hubballi

Many wary of lack of data, some say people should be able to choose vaccine

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru/ Hubballi

A certain amount of vaccine hesitancy, combined with technical glitches, has led to poor turnout for the Covid immunisation programme in Chamarajanagar and Hubballi.

On Wednesday (Day 5), the state met 55% of its target of vaccinating 62,772 people.

Since the launch of the Covid immunisation on January 16, several parts of the state have had trouble accessing the CoWIN app, and some centres reported that many beneficiaries did not receive the message about time and venue.

In Chamarajanagar district health workers at Chamarajanagar Institute of Medical Sciences (CIMS) told TNIE, on condition of anonymity, that poor turnout was mainly due to hesitancy and a lack of choice in deciding which vaccine to take.

CIMS is one of six sites where the state government distributed Bharat Biotech's Covaxin, which has been mired in controversy as Stage 3 trials are ongoing. Sources at CIMS said the poor response was mainly because many people are afraid to take Covaxin, despite there being no reports of side-effects. Chamarajanagar district saw 349 people get the shot, against 656 at 10 sites where Covishield was given.

In Mysuru district, 2,848 people were vaccinated on Wednesday. However, authorities brought down the target from 4,000 to 3,891 on Wednesday. The number vaccinated on Wednesday includes people who missed their scheduled shot and walked in to take the jab. This was not allowed in the first four days of the vaccine drive.

Staff at KIMS wary of vax

Meanwhile, the turnout was marginal at KIMS Hubballi, where in four days, just 12% of staff got vaccinated. Dharwad district, as a whole, achieved 58% of its total target of 7,979 in four days of vaccination.

KIMS Hubballi has 2,500 staff, including medical staff, technicians, Group D employees, students, and faculty. Dharwad district saw over 22,000 Covid cases, most of which were treated at KIMS. Over 60 staffers contracted Covid and recovered.

"Only 301 staffers of 2,500 got vaccinated. Others are hesitating. Before the vaccine was supplied, hospital authorities had held an orientation programme, but staff are not showing interest," a KIMS official said.

Many people have raised concerns about vaccine data. "There is a need for long-term study about the efficiency and other aspects of the vaccine. Producers are claiming only 50-80% efficiency and the deaths in Ballari and Shivamogga is leading to hesitancy. The number of fresh cases has come down, is also a cause for the poor response," the official added.

Arunkumar C, Medical Superintendent of KIMS, said beneficiaries can decide whether or not to take the vaccine. "We are creating awareness through our social media groups. Doctors who were administered the vaccine claimed they have not suffered any reactions," he said.

Vaccine: 55% target achieved in Bengaluru

The BBMP reached 55% of its target on Wednesday. Of 6,836 people who were meant to receive the vaccine, only 3,803 people got it. Dasarahalli zone had the lowest number of beneficiaries at 138 out of 259 targeted people. The West Zone was the best performing with 1,886 of the slotted 3,226 people taking the shot. Private facilities had more beneficiaries with 2,708 people and more session sites with 58 centres, as opposed to the government which had 1,095 beneficiaries and 21 vaccine sites. ENS

Highest turnout in Chikkamagaluru

THE turnout was the highest in Chikkamagaluru district at 73 per cent.

The other better performing districts in terms of vaccine coverage on Wednesday were Tumakuru at 68 per cent, Vijayapura at 66 per cent, Udupi and Kodagu at 66 percent and Yadgir at 65 per cent.

Union Health Secretary Rajesh Bhushan on Tuesday had directed the states to engage with beneficiaries of the vaccine. He said that vaccine hesitancy is not new and has been there in other countries too. "It has nothing to do with only Covid-19. Probably, the degree may be more in Covid-19 because it is a new disease and a new vaccine. We have seen this in polio, measles, mumps. The only way of addressing it is by engaging repeatedly with the beneficiary groups, and trying to address their doubts and confusions. That is our advice to all state governments," he had said.

However, state Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar said that in Karnataka, there has been no such major hesitancy among doctors or front line workers. "We are keeping the targets high so that we vaccinate more people. We are also counselling and repeatedly creating awareness with leading doctors setting examples by taking the vaccine. We are expecting more health workers and front line workers to take the jab in the coming days," Dr Sudhakar stressed.

The minister also clarified that both the deaths reported in the state are not related to the vaccine, but due to cardiac arrest. While the CoWIN app has continued to suffer glitches in many districts still, the officials doing the registrations manually fear that this may create trouble once the number of beneficiaries increases.

JAB FOR THE WARRIOR

I was the first beneficiary in the hospital to get the jab on Wednesday. I got Covishield and it was like a normal intramuscular injection. I did it to set an example for other health workers to get the jab without any apprehensions. During the observation period I had no side-effects and I was all normal. Many of our staff were on Covid duty and at high risk. Hence, it is best for all health care workers to come forward, get the vaccine, and be safe. We all should remember that to get herd immunity, all of us should get vaccinated. This will help conquer Covid-19. At out hospital, over 110 got vaccinated and we were happy with the response

Dr Sujatha Rathode, Director, Minto Opthalmic Hospital

I took the Covishield vaccine on Wednesday and I had no side-effects or pain at the site of injection. I am fit and perfectly fine. It is the same as taking any other vaccine, why fear it? There is misconception that people who get the vaccine will get Covid. The vaccine only results in antibodies that act against the spike protein and is not the virus being injected. People need not worry or have fear over taking the jab. We should all get vaccinated so we can overcome this pandemic. RGUHS has sent a list of beneficiaries to the government. We are waiting for it to be approved so we can hold the vaccination drive

Dr S Sacchidanand, Vice-Chancellor, Rajiv Gandhi University of Health Sciences

Long Covid, a battle for many

THE Covid peak has come to an end, and a second wave doesn't seem imminent. Amongst the 10.6 million Covid cases in India, there have been a huge number of recoveries. Most of the Indian Covid patients recovered completely, tested negative for Covid subsequently and produced a significant number of antibodies against the virus. But these people can count themselves amongst the lucky bunch. Some Covid victims don't have such an easy ride back to normalcy. These patients, with a history of Covid-19 pneumonia, who have received adequate treatment, complain of non-specific symptoms, for more than 12 weeks after Covid-19 was first detected. This phenomenon has been termed as "Long Covid". Medically, doctors arrive at this diagnosis only when they have ruled out every other alternative diagnosis. Over these 10 months of the pandemic, my team has treated over 3,000 patients with minimal mortality rate of 0.6%, and hence, I have seen a substantial number of patients who have come to me with Long Covid.

The implications of Long Covid are numerous. Firstly, from a medical standpoint, patients present to the hospital with complaints of prolonged loss of sense of taste and smell, excessive fatigue, sleep disturbances, muscular and joint pains, skin rashes, headache, psychological symptoms of anxiety and depression, cognitive impairment aka brain fog.

As one can clearly see, independently, these symptoms point to a variety of diagnoses from different systems of the human body. Hence, the treating doctor must have a high degree of clinical suspicion when it comes to diagnosing Long Covid. I have noticed that those with autoimmune conditions like urticaria and psoriasis have a greater risk of suffering from this protracted form of Covid.

Secondly, Long Covid also places tremendous amounts of stress on the family. The financial burden from the prolonged stay in hospital, along with the persistent complaints from the patient takes a toll on the mental health of the family. In my experience, adequate counselling of the family on the various aspects of Long Covid, combined with explaining the course of treatment goes a long way in assuaging their fears and giving the patient a positive environment for recovery.

DR SATYANARAYANA
HOD and Consultant-Pulmonology, Lung Transplant Physician, Manipal Hospitals Mysore

Lastly, I will discuss the impact Long Covid has on a patient's daily life. Battling symptoms like fatigue, sleep disturbances and joint pains can have a negative effect on a person's job performance, especially now that most companies require their employees to work in offices again. Hunting for suitable gainful employment can become a challenge. Even for those working from home, performing household chores along with office work becomes next to impossible. Psychologically, this inability to help out the family or even just take care of themselves can lead to feelings of low self-worth and helplessness which can manifest into depression and anxiety. Another thing to keep in mind is that these patients cannot receive the Covid vaccine until they have completely recovered from the illness and have no symptoms.

Fortunately, every cloud has a silver lining. Long Covid, whilst sounding a dreary prospect, is treatable. It required a multidisciplinary approach, involving specialists from various fields to tackle the multiple issues. Usually, the treatment protocol includes the following modalities: diet modification, physical rehabilitation, sleep therapy, pain management, psychological therapy.

Despite Long Covid being treatable, it would be my heartfelt recommendation to readers to follow the age old adage: Prevention is better than cure. I urge each and every single one of you to wear a mask, practice social distancing and to get vaccinated once it becomes available to the general public. We are in this together and we will get through this together.

AFTER a gap of one-and-half years, Chief Minister BS Yediyurappa conducted a non-virtual, marathon eight-and half-hour meeting with Deputy Commissioners and CEOs of Zilla Panchayats at Vidhana Soudha in Bengaluru on Wednesday. He directed officials to look into the Covid-19 vaccination drive, take up works related to basic amenities and schemes of the Union government.

Earlier, Yediyurappa launched software that keeps track of funds released by the government for about 1,800 schemes and projects of 39 departments, and reviews work progress. Addressing DCs and CEOs, he stressed that the anti-cattle slaughter ordinance should be strictly implemented.

The Chief Minister also directed officials -- from village accountant to deputy commissioner -- to visit villages and reach out to people. "If problems and issues are sorted out in villages, people migrating to cities and Bengaluru will reduce. It's your duty to ensure government schemes reach beneficiaries," he said.

Chief Minister BS Yediyurappa holds a meeting with district deputy commissioners and ZP CEOs at Vidhana Soudha, in Bengaluru on Wednesday. Deputy chief minister Govind Karjol and Chief Secretary T M Vijay Bhaskar were also present

Appreciating their work, he said, "In the past ten months, the State witnessed floods, drought and Covid, you have worked well." He also told them to ensure that land is acquired for highways, with 14,000 cases pending before DCs.

Later, he told reporters that due to Covid, the last ten months were a loss, and now development should be visible. He said officials were directed to look into the vaccination drive, agriculture input subsidy, housing for flood-affected, solid waste management and drinking water facilities, along with implementation of Central schemes.

On agriculture, he said officials have to hasten farmers' registration so they can avail of relief amount under the input subsidy. Names of 12.02 lakh farmers who own 12.14 lakh hectares of farmland were registered. Of them, 9.22 lakh farmers were paid ₹709.67 crore, which is more than the National Disaster Relief Fund, he added.

Stressing on completing ongoing work under MLA funds, Yediyurappa told officials to simplify the process for administrative approval. He also directed district in-charge ministers to conduct review meetings once in three months.

He said that of 14.18 lakh acres government land, encroachments on only 2.7 lakh acres were removed. He asked officials to remove the encroachments at the earliest and auction the land. Yediyurappa directed DCs to convert 2,741 residential areas without records into revenue villages.

On the issue of graveyards, he directed officials to identify land in villages for graveyards, and if government land is not available, officials can scout for private land. Under the Jaljeevan Mission, of 42,000 government schools, 16,000 schools will get drinking water facility.

THE Congress on Wednesday appointed senior leaders R Ramalinga Reddy and R Dhruvanarayana as working presidents of the KPCC, raising the number of working presidents to an all-time high of five. The new appointments have been made keeping in mind BBMP polls and other upcoming elections in the State.

Congress president Sonia Gandhi has appointed R Ramalinga Reddy and R Dhruvanarayana as working presidents with immediate effect, a statement released by party general secretary, organisation, K C Venugopal said.

Ramalinga Reddy

Ramalinga Reddy, who rose from councillor to home minister, and is seven-time MLA, is a senior leader who is expected to play an important role in the BBMP elections. "Though Reddy held a number of ministries, he was not given a bigger role in the party. His strength is Bengaluru, which will help the Congress get good results in the BBMP elections. Reddy is non-controversial, he is good with BJP leaders, and by giving him more responsibilities, many local BJP leaders and former BBMP councillors might join the Congress and strengthen the party," a Congress leader said, on condition of anonymity.

KPCC President D K Shivakumar and three working presidents — Eshwar Khandre, Satish Jarkiholi and Saleem Ahmed — are holding top posts in the KPCC. While Khandre represents Kalyan Karnataka, Jarkiholi represents Mumbai-Karnataka and Saleem the minority community. "In order to elevate someone from Old Mysuru region, including Bengaluru, Ramalinga Reddy and Dhruvanarayana were inducted as working presidents," sources from Shivakumar's office said.

The Congress is also making an attempt to give representation to major castes and communities in Karnataka. Shivakumar is keen on building the party from the base, for which he is looking for people who can strengthen certain pockets or regions, to build the party from the grassroots level. "Zilla and Taluk Panchayat elections are due in April or May, so appointment of these leaders will help the party," sources said.

Sowmya Reddy hits constable on the arm

ANUSHA RAVI @Bengaluru

JAYANAGAR MLA Sowmya Reddy landed in a controversy on Wednesday after being caught on camera hitting a woman constable in the arm during the Congress' protest rally. The incident took place near Freedom Park when police personnel were detaining protesting Congress leaders after they started moving towards Raj Bhavan.

In a clipping that was shared widely, even by BJP leaders and ministers, an agitated Sowmya was seen yelling at a woman constable and hitting her on the arm as she tried to grab the MLA's hand to detain her. "As a legislator, as a woman, you should work towards women's empowerment. How right is it to raise your hand at another woman?" asked Minister for Social Welfare B Siramulu, in a series of tweets as he shared the video. Sowmya accused the police of physically manhandling her to the extent that she almost fainted.

"The police were pushing and pulling us for more than 20 minutes, as if we are criminals. I have injuries on my neck and shoulder due to the insensitive and excessive manhandling. I was almost fainting and wanted some water that was near the KPCC president and tried to walk towards him. By then I was grabbed by a woman constable. I asked her to remove it. It was a natural, instinctive reaction," Reddy said. Later in the day Sowmya also met Commissioner of Police Kamal Pant and submitted a letter alleging manhandling by the police. While the letter has not been considered as an official complaint, the police remained mum on whether a suo moto case has been registered against the legislator.

FARMERS FROM MYSURU LEAVE FOR DELHI

ENS @Mysuru

EXTENDING their support to the 'Republic Day Tractor Parade' organised at Delhi on January 26, several farmers from Chamarajangar and Mysuru left the city on Wednesday.

Farmer leader and president of Karnataka State Sugarcane Growers' Association Kuruburu Shantha Kumar welcomed the farmers who arrived from Chamarajanagar after paying respect to late activist Prof M D Nanjundaswamy.

Hundreds of farmers from the state are travelling to Delhi to express their solidarity with the protesting farmers and take part in the Republic Day Tractor Parade to be held demanding withdrawal of the new farm laws.

Speaking after flagging off the vehicle from Mysuru, Kuruburu Shantakumar said several farmers of Aikya Horata (Farmers-Dalits-Labourers) Samithi under the leadership of Manchegowda, are leaving to Delhi. The farmers are carrying over 50 kg rice, vegetables, medicines and other essentials. While several are travelling by trucks, others will descend on the capital via trains.

SIDDU STANDS OUT IN COVID GEAR

Blue gloves, white mask and a face shield - after contracting Covid-19 and spending solitary time in hospital during treatment seemed to have left a deep impact on Siddaramaiah, Leader of the Opposition in the Legislative Assembly. Amid thousands of protestors, many of whom showed no concern for the pandemic and threw caution into the air, Siddaramaiah stood out with his mask always on and armed with surgical gloves and a face shield that was on even when he was being detained by the police.

MLA ANJALI NIMBALKAR FAINTS DURING STIR

Khanapur MLA Dr Anjali Nimbalkar fainted during the protest on Wednesday. Police personnel, party workers and colleagues rushed to the MLA's aid and helped her out of the protest site. She was then helped into a car which drove her away. Minutes before getting into the car, she was seen being swarmed by women police in a bid to detain her. As she fainted, the MLA was brought to the doorstep of a bus meant to detain protestors and was seen regaining stability slowly.

WOODEN PLOUGH TURNS PROTEST PROP

A wooden plough carried by Congress workers during Wednesday's protest became the prop of the day. Congress workers first brought the shiny wooden prop to KPCC President D K Shivakumar's residence where it was volleyed to all of the protest sites. At one point, Shivakumar too held the prop and posed for photos and videos.

Congress leaders appeal to Governor

ESTIMATES by the party and the police put the crowd at anywhere between 12,000-20,000 as farmers' groups from different parts of the state too joined in. Earlier in the day, Shivakumar alleged that hundreds of protesters were stopped from entering the city and participating in the protest. Ugly scenes were witnessed near Freedom Park as Congress workers and police jostled with each other around in an attempt to stop protesters from gheraoing the Raj Bhavan.

"Farmers have been braving biting cold at night along Delhi's borders protesting against these three farm laws. The Congress party stands firmly behind the farmers," said a thunderous Shivakumar as he addressed a gathering of protesters at Freedom Park after the rally. With crowds exceeding expectations, traffic jams caused severe inconvenience to commuters in the central areas of the city.

When the protesters tried to march towards Raj Bhavan from Freedom Park, the police cracked down on them, detaining dozens including senior Congress leaders.

"Peaceful protest is a democratic right. It is the Opposition's duty to question the government. The B S Yediyurappa-led government and the police are disrupting peaceful protests and destroying democracy," yelled Siddaramaiah from the window of a bus he was dragged into by the police after being detained.

The leaders, who were released after some time, made a representation to Governor Vajubhai Vala. A delegation of Congress leaders including Shivakumar, Siddaramaiah, Mallikarjun Kharge, Dr G Parameshwara and H K Patil submitted a three-page memorandum demanding rollback of the three farm laws and a public apology from Prime Minister Narendra Modi for enacting the laws. The memorandum also demanded a special sitting of Parliament to discuss the reforms and an additional amendment that makes MSP (minimum support price) mandatory for all crop purchases.

As thousands marched against the farm laws, the BJP lashed out at the Congress for allegedly misleading people with lies.

"It is very clear that the APMCs will continue to function even after the #FarmLaws are implemented. Our farmers have the choice to sell their produce in APMCs or outside to private players. Why is @INCIndia spreading lies that APMCs will be shut down?" asked BJP National General Secretary C T Ravi in a series of tweets attacking the Congress. A host of BJP leaders joined in condemning the Congress protest over farm laws.

DHRUVANARAYAN HAS A BIG TASK ON HAND

K SHIVA KUMAR @Mysuru

THE Congress High Command, keen to revamp the party in Karnataka, has appointed KPCC President D K Shivakumar loyalist and moderate young Dalit face R Dhruvanarayana, besides veteran R Ramalinga Reddy. Knowing there are no big elections for the next three years, the Congress is keen to rejuvenate the cadre, and picked a Dalit face from Old Mysuru region to represent the SC community. However, Dhruvanarayana has a big task on hand as he should match up to veteran leaders V Srinivasa Prasad and H C Mahadevappa. Prasad walked out of the party with his followers and also created history by winning on a BJP ticket from Chamarajanagar. Mahadevappa, a Siddaramaiah loyalist and Dalit face, has kept a low profile in recent times.

Dhruvanarayana started from the Youth Congress and followed prominent Lingayat leader M Rajashekhara Murthy into the BJP. He contested from Santhemarahalli and lost to JDS candidate A R Krishna Murthy. He rejoined the Congress through Shivakumar and won from Santhemarahalli by one vote, besides Kollegal reserve constituency. He is also two-time MP from Chamarajanagar. The appointment gives him ample opportunity to bring Dalits into the Congress fold. With veteran leaders Siddaramaiah and Mahadevappa in the autumn of their careers, the party needs their backing to sweep Old Mysuru and consolidate Ahinda votes, besides winning over Vokkaliga and Lingayat communities.

MES, Sena to protest over Kannada flag

EXPRESS NEWSSERVICE
@Belagavi

THE Maharashtra Ekikaran Samiti (MES) and the Shiv Sena have decided to hold a protest at the premises of Belagavi City Corporation (BCC) on Thursday, demanding the immediate removal of a Kannada flag and flagpole erected there.

Besides activists from various pro-Maharashtra outfits from the Belagavi region, a large number of Shiv Sena activists from Kolhapur are expected to take part in the protest.

Shiv Sena Kolhapur district president Vijay Devane in a video release said the Kannada flag pole in front of BCC should be removed before January 20 or else they will support the MES protest in Belagavi.

Hitting out at the Marathi groups, pro-Kannada organisations have warned that the Shiv Sena workers would not be allowed to enter Karnataka.

In a memorandum to the district administration, MES leaders had set January 20 as the deadline for the removal of the flag, failing which they said they would stage a protest on Thursday.

The hoisting of a Kannada flag by a group of activists in front of the corporation a few weeks ago has triggered protests by pro-Maharashtra groups which are demanding its removal. For many decades, since the reorganisation of states, a Marathi saffron flag was being hoisted by MES atop the Belagavi City Corporation. However, the government did not allow flags to be raised on the new corporation building after the office was shifted.

In their attempts to get the flag removed, MES leaders claimed that no state flags were allowed to be raised at the government offices as per the Constitution. The MES had conducted preparatory meetings for the rally on Tuesday and Wednesday.

BELGAUM BYPOLL

Picking a candidate gets tough for BJP, Congress

NAUSHAD BIJAPUR @Belagavi

ALTHOUGH the schedule for the Belagavi Lok Sabha bypoll is expected to be announced any moment, both the Congress and BJP are still caught in a dilemma over the choice of candidates.

The Congress held several meetings in the past few weeks but failed to come to a consensus even as some of its prominent leaders did admit that three probables have been shortlisted. On the other side, the list of aspirants in BJP continues to stretch while a section of the party rallies behind the family of late Suresh Angadi, former Union Minister of State for Railways, demanding a ticket to Shradha Angadi, daughter of Angadi.

While Shradha refuses to comment on whether she is keen to contest if her party fields her, sources in the party said she is one of the strong contenders. On Sunday, Union Home Minister Amit Shah visited late Angadi's family. According to sources, Shah did not discuss any political issues. But his visit assumes significance as there is a demand for a ticket to Shradha. This, at a time when many in the party like Dr Girish Sonwalkar, M B Zirli, Dr Ravi Patil, Shankargouda Patil, Rajeev Topannavar and Ramesh Katti are said to be in the race for the ticket. Some leaders in the BJP want minister Jagadish Shettar to contest as the party is expected to sweep the bypoll given its popularity in the constituency.

Shradha Angadi

In the Congress camp, leaders claimed the names of Satish Jarkiholi, Channaraj Hattiholi and Prakash Hukkeri have been put on top of the list but the high command is yet to discuss the issue. Sources said the Congress may announce its candidate only after the BJP does.

Both the parties are keen to field a Lingayat candidate in an attempt to attract voters from this community, which forms a large share of voters in the constituency. For the past four terms, the Lingayats rallied behind late Angadi, who hailed from this community.

Incidentally, most of the strong aspirants from both BJP and Congress are Lingayats and these votes could split if candidates from this community are fielded by both the sides.

The BWSSB will hold water adalats from 9.30 am to 11 am on Thursday, in 12 Sub-Divisions. People can contact the 24x7 call centre (2223 8888), helpline (1916) and WhatsApp (87622 28888). It is mandatory to follow Covid safety protocols when attending the adalat, a release said.

City corporation to take up survey of illegal religious structures

Some places enjoy support of politicians, say officials

No officer should take this lightly as the details need to be submitted to the court. There should be no laxity. The details should be accurate and officials should get an explanation within a week on the presence of sites

N Manjunatha Prasad
Commissioner, BBMP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

AHEAD of the upcoming High Court hearing, Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) Commissioner N Manjunatha Prasad on Wednesday ordered civic body officials to take up a survey of all unauthorised religious buildings in the city and submit a report within three days.

At a meeting with all engineers and ward officials, Prasad said that there are many unauthorised religious structures on public spaces like roads, parks, government land and play grounds. "Wherever a temple, church, mosque, gurudwara or any other religious building has encroached on government land, these needs to be identified and a report must be submitted," he added.

He also directed the officials to prepare a list of all such encroached places, which should include all those constructed even before 2009, while pointing out as there is a High Court hearing on January 28, he should have the report on January 27. "No officer should take this lightly as the details need to be submitted to the court. There should be no laxity. The details should be accurate and officials should get an explanation within a week on the presence of sites," Prasad said.

After submitting the details to the court, protection from the police will also be taken to demolish unauthorised structures, he assured his staffers.

Referring to the Supreme Court order of September 29, 2009, Prasad said the apex court had stated that no unauthorised religious structures can be constructed in public places. Following this, the High Court has sought for information.

The Commissioner's order has made the officials pull up their socks as this is the first time that they will have to undertake such a survey and issue notices.

A BBMP official said, "Some of these religious structures and institutions have the support of eminent people and politicians. Also the matter needs to be dealt with sensitively as religious sentiments are involved. The matter will be conveyed to the Commissioner and to the government to look into it."

HC junks 2 pvt plaints against Premji, wife

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

IN relief to Wipro's former Chairman and Managing Director Azim Premji and his wife, the Karnataka High Court has upheld the order of the Special Court for Economic Offences, which dismissed two separate private complaints against them by Chennai-based NGO, India Awake For Transparency (IAFT).

The High Court has set aside the orders passed by the 58th Additional City Civil and Sessions Court, which had restored the private complaints before the Special Court and passed the orders to proceed with the matter.

Allowing two separate petitions filed by Azim Hasham Premji, his wife Yasmeen A Premji, and Pagalthivarthi Srinivasan, Global Tax Head of Wipro Ltd, Justice Suraj Govindaraj dismissed the private complaints before the Special Court against them.

Their writ petitions before the HC had sought setting aside of the order dated July 3, 2020, passed by the 58th Additional City Civil and Sessions Court in two separate criminal revision petitions. Allowing the petitions, Justice Govindaraj set aside the orders passed by the Sessions Court in two criminal revision petitions on July 3, 2020, and confirmed the order passed by the Special Court for Economic Offences based on the private complaints filed by IAFT.

The Special Court, on July 3, 2017, had dismissed the complaints against the petitioners on the grounds that the complainant was neither the Registrar of Companies nor a shareholder of the company, or authorised by the Central Government to file the complaint.

Against this, the criminal revision petitions were filed by the complainant.

On hearing this, the Sessions Court had passed the order restoring the private complaints.

It may be noted that the IAFT had filed a private complaint in 2017 against the petitioners before the Special Court for violation of Section 447 of the Companies Act, 2013. It was alleged that while the petitioners were functioning as Directors of Vidya Investment and Trading Company Ltd, in the report filed by them before the Registrar of Companies, they have not chosen to give correct information.

In another private complaint, the IAFT had sought to prosecute Premji and the others under Section 447 of the Companies Act for offences under Section 409 read with 120-B of the IPC.

Warrants to search SDPI offices upheld

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE High Court upheld the order passed by the Special Court for NIA Cases, which issued warrants to search the offices of Social Democratic Party of India (SDPI) in relation to cases registered over the DJ Halli and KG Halli riots in the city last year.

Dismissing the petition filed by SDPI questioning the Special Court's order, Justice Suraj Govindaraj said that the petitioner itself does not make any allegation as regards the search being proper or improper. "The only contention of the petitioner is as regards the order of search being issued improperly without application of mind. The raid, search, seizure has not been impugned in these proceedings. A perusal of the mahazar report indicates that all the requirements of carrying out the search have been complied with," the judge said.

The judge also noted that it is not required in all circumstances to issue summons prior to issuance of a search warrant. A search warrant could be issued in terms of Section 93(1)(c), without issuing summons under Section 91 of the CrPC, he said.

The SDPI moved HC, praying to quash the order passed by the 49th Additional City Civil and Sessions Judge on August 31, 2020, issuing warrants to search under Section 93 of the Criminal Procedure Code and consequent mahazars carried out in pursuance of the said search at its various offices, in relation to the riots that took place on the night of August 11, 2020.

The city police have registered FIRs under the various provisions of Prevention of Damage to Public Property Act and Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act, 1967, and later, the same were transferred to the CCB. During the course of the investigation, the CCB arrested several persons, and recorded their voluntary statements. Then the cases were handed over to the National Investigation Agency.

EPS blows poll bugle, targets Stalin

Your dreams of coming to power in Tamil Nadu will remain dreams, Palaniswami tells DMK chief

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Chennai

"YOUR dreams of coming to power in the State will remain just that, dreams," said Chief Minister Edappadi Palaniswami addressing DMK chief MK Stalin on Wednesday, as he resumed his campaign for the Assembly elections with a mega rally in Sriperumbudur. "The AIADMK will retain power this time too." Palaniswami then read out a long list of his government's achievements, including its handling of the Covid pandemic.

The Chief Minister began his campaign by offering prayers at Sri Ramanujar Temple in the area. Later, he met some farmers, agricultural workers, weavers, and traders in the region. Later, he visited the Anna Memorial in Kancheepuram, and paid respects to former Chief Minister CN Annadurai. Addressing the people of Sriperumbudur, Palaniswami claimed that Stalin had tried to topple the AIADMK government several times after the demise of its leader and former Chief Minister J Jayalalithaa.

Tamil Nadu CM Edappadi Palaniswami and (right) DMK chief M K Stalin

"All those efforts were thwarted by us with the help of the cadre and the public. Now, once again he is raising suspicion if I will continue as the Chief Minister after January 27. You have made such claims before too, but the AIADMK government has provided stable governance for the last four years," said the Chief Minister. "On January 27, we are inaugurating the memorial for our late leader Amma (J Jayalalithaa). We swear upon her. In the forthcoming Assembly elections too, the AIADMK will win and form the government. You (Stalin) can only dream (about coming to power). But you will never realise them as only the AIADMK will win the elections," asserted Palaniswami.

Responding to the charge of the DMK president that Palaniswami was not elected directly by the people to the post of Chief Minister, Palaniswami said MLAs elect the Chief Minister and that the Chief Minister is not elected directly by the people. "When Arignar Anna passed away, Karunanidhi became the Chief Minister. People voted only for Anna as they thought he was fit for the post of the Chief Minister," Palaniswami added.

Referring to the another remark of Stalin that the AIADMK would not win the elections even if the party performs somersaults, Palaniswami wondered what is the relevance of performing somersaults and winning the elections. "We seek votes by highlighting our achievements. But people know well who performs somersaults. Insteading making valid promises, Stalin has been unleashing falsehood against the AIADMK government," he added.

B MURALI @Tirumala

THE idols of Lord Sri Rama, Goddess Sita and Lakshmana, to be consecrated at the Ramatheertham temple in Vizianagaram district, are ready. The Tirumala Tirupati Devasthanam (TTD) is providing the idols and the three idols were made ready in a span of just 12 days.

The sculptors at the TTD's SV Sculpture College in Tirupati, having vast experience of sculpting idols of Gods and Goddesses since several years, were endorsed the work of sculpting the idols. The sculptors worked day and night and completed the task of sculpting the 3.5 feet idol of Lord Sri Rama and three feet idols of Goddess Sita and Lakshmana. Final touches were also given to them and they are ready to handed over to the authorities concerned for shifting them to Ramatheertham, SV Sculpture College production centre, Assistant Executive Officer Mahindra Reddy, said.

After the idol of Lord Sri Rama at Ramatheertham was desecrated December last year, Parameswarappa Sthapathi, the representative of the temple, contacted the TTD for sculpting new idols along with drawings and measurements. The Stapathi visited the college once during the work and inspected the making of idols, sources said.

Another officer also visited the sculpture college and conducted physical verification of the three idols.

"They have given only 10 days time for supply. We requested for 15 days but now we are ready to hand over the idols before the date," an official said.

Also known as Krishna Shila, the stone used for sculpting idols is only the stone being used since ages by TTD.

Minister blames TDP leader

Vijayawada: A day after the videos of some persons removing the idol of Nandi from a temple and placing it on the middle of road at Santabommali of Srikakulam district, Animal Husbandry minister Dr Seediri Appala Raju alleged that the desecration of the idol was a conspiracy by TDP. "The TDP leaders are intentionally demolishing idols to create communal disputes among the society," he said. The minister said the conspiracy of Opposition leader N Chandrababu Naidu in vandalising idols was exposed with the Santhabommali incident, which took place under his direction.

Provide midday meals, restart all classes: Forum

PEARL MARIA DSOUZA
@ Bengaluru

MORE than a fortnight after schools opened to some classes, the government is yet to restart midday meals. This, despite the assurance of Primary and Secondary Education Minister S Suresh Kumar in this regard.

Vidyarthi Nade Shaleya Kade, a forum of parents, teachers, education and health experts, has put forth a list of demands, including the need for restarting all classes by January 23, and providing midday meals. It said they would start a movement on January 25 if their demands are not met.

Food kits supplied to students' homes are not serving the purpose of increasing the children's nutritional intake, the members of the forum said.

"Even if food kits are given in the proportion they ought to be, it's just rice and dal. There is no milk powder or vegetable. A bigger problem is that working class parents are out of the house in the morning, leaving the child with uncooked food. The kits do not serve any purpose," said M Kutti, a parent from Uppinangady, with children studying in class 10, 1, and 4.

Educationists , health experts, School Development and Monitoring Committee members and teachers have been ruing the continued closure of schools for those below class six and the lack of nutritional intake for students.

These experts are awaiting the government's decision to reopen all classes. Till now, the state government has allowed opening up of class 10 and 12 and Vidyagama in a new version for class six to 9. A decision is yet to be announced for the other classes.

"When we met the Minister in December, we were assured that all classes would be opened by January 15. But nothing has happened. Nutritional intake has dropped and malnutrition has increased among students with Anganwadis remaining closed. There is a need for the government to restart the midday meal programme," health expert Dr Bevinje Srinivas Kakkilaya told TNIE.

'Sasi upset with jail staff for ignoring her health'

"SASIKALA suffers from comorbidities of hypertension, diabetes and hypothyroidism. She will be further evaluated and monitored," the hospital had stated. Sasikala was brought into the casualty section of the hospital but was later shifted to a private ward on the fifth floor.

According to sources, she was anxious and upset at her sickness, and had reportedly told some hospital staff that she hoped to get well before her release from the prison on January 27. "She was upset with the prison authorities for ignoring her health. She sounded anxious that her health situation may delay her departure to Chennai next week," the source added. Sasikala was accompanied by another woman from the Bengaluru Central Prison and some police personnel. She and her sister-in-law, J Ilavarasi, are sharing a room in the prison. "The latter had fallen sick and had the same symptoms — fever and dry cough — some time back. While she recovered, Sasikala took ill and had to be shifted to Bowring Hospital," said the sources.

Sasikala, along with Ilavarasi and nephew Sudhakaran, has been lodged in the Bengaluru Central Prison at Parappanna Agrahara after they were convicted and sentenced to four years imprisonment in February 2017 in a disproportionate assets (DA) case in which Jayalalithaa was the prime accused.

'Will identify areas for improvement'

THE index learnings can be used in devising policies, both at the central and state levels, and it helps to attract investment. Karnataka has been categorized as "over-performing" in certain categories such as; Human Capital (54.27); Knowledge Diffusion (72.26); Investment (33.01), while it has been rated as "under-performing" in Safety and Legal Environment (39.75) and Business Environment (24.43).

On the Safety and Legal Environment, the report says Karnataka is tied for the top position in the number of cyber crime police stations, but despite the good performance, the state also has one of the highest proportion of offences under IT/IP related Acts, and pending court cases. While the number of offenses can be justified through higher reporting of such offenses , the high pendency of court cases is a matter of concern and can be a sign of reluctance in seeking legal relief because of its time-conuming nature. The latter can be a detrimental factor in the innovation landscape, the report stated.

"We understand there are always areas of improvement and we are conducting a study to identify how we can work on these aspects, " said Dr E V Ramana Reddy, Additional Chief Secretary, Department of Electronics, IT/BT and Science and Technology. Retaining the top rank is an achievement of the entire ecosystem, including multiple government departments, industry, academia and startups, he added.

The Department of Information Technology, in coordination other departments, is conducting a study to analyze the opportunities and potential for innovation in various sectors and a report on innovative opportunities is likely to be prepared soon.

Can't transfer voter ID seizure case to CBI, says HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

IN view of the report submitted in relation to a major seizure of voter IDs and BBMP seals from a flat at Jalahalli in RR Nagar Assembly Constituency — represented by MLA N Munirathna — during 2018 assembly elections, the Karnataka High Court on Wednesday disposed of a PIL, seeking directions to transfer the investigation from Karnataka Police to the CBI.

A division bench of Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice Sachin Shankar Magadum disposed of the petition after hearing the counsel and going through the report submitted by Additional Commissioner of Police (East), who was appointed to look into the lacunaes pointed out by the petitioners.

The petitioners N Anand Kumar and G Santhosh Kumar have sought directions to transfer the probe from city police to CBI, alleging that Munirathna, being a member of the ruling party, is in position to clout and influence the state police machinery. They pointed out an inordinate delay in probe.

According to the bench, the report states that the petitioners appeared before the investigating officer (IO) on multiple dates. "The IO should bear in mind the allegations made by the petitioners and the latter should cooperate with the investigation. The CBI has shown unwillingness to take up the investigation. Therefore, we are not passing drastic orders to transfer the investigation to other agencies," it added.

Man dies 18 hrs after Covishield shot

DONITA JOSE @ Hyderabad

A 42-year-old male healthcare worker, B Vittal Rao, from Nirmal, died during the early hours of Wednesday, nearly 18 hours after taking the first shot of the Covid vaccine Covishield.

He was brought dead to Nirmal District Hospital at 5.30 am after taking the vaccine shot on Tuesday at 11.30 am. The Directorate of Public Health issued a statement on Wednesday stating that preliminary findings suggest the death was not related to the vaccine shot administered to him.

It is learnt that the 42-year-old was a pilot for 108 ambulances at PHC, Kuntala, which was his base unit. After taking the vaccination at around 11.30 am on Tuesday, he experienced no discomfort, joined his duties and was at the PHC until 5 pm, after which he left for home.

"This is an unfortunate incident. From what we have learnt, he had no comorbidities. From the first look, it appears to be a case of myocardial infarction or heart attack. It simply appears to be incidental that he got the attack on the same day as that of the vaccine shot," Dr GS Rao, Director of Public Health of Telangana, said.

What makes the authorities more assured about the same is the fact that all other beneficiaries from the PHC, nearly 80 in number, had no reactions or minor Adverse Events Following Immunization (AEFI).

The Director of Public Health has said the death will be investigated by the 15-member AEFI committee in the district, who will submit a report to the State and then to the Centre, which will take the final call. "The AEFI committee in the district will consist of a cardiologist to examine the matter, apart from forensic experts. The vial from which the vaccine was given will be collected and sent for examination along with the viscera of the body," added Dr GS Rao.

Until now, Telangana has had nearly 77 instances of AEFI, of which four required hospitalisation. The State has vaccinated a total of 69,625 individuals.

Employees close to the deceased are shocked by the death of ambulance pilot. "He had an athletic built and was one of the best performers. He did not even smoke. It is hard to believe he could get a heart attack. This is a difficult moment for us all," said a senior official from GVK EMRI.

GOOD RIDDANCE TO PARLIAMENT CANTEEN SUBSIDY

Canteen food in India's Parliament would no longer come at dirt cheap rates. Lok Sabha Speaker Om Birla has announced that subsidies on food served in the canteen have been completely dispensed with. Besides, the state-owned Indian Tourism Development Corporation (ITDC) would now run the facility that was earlier managed by the Northern Railways.

In 2019, Members of Parliament had unanimously decided to give up the subsidy during the Business Advisory Committee meeting of Lok Sabha. Some calculations point out that revocation of the subsidy may save the Lok Sabha Secretariat ₹17 crore a year. However, it is just not about the finances. The Parliament canteen food subsidy has long been linked to privileges that the people's elected representatives are entitled to. The matter grabbed headlines five years ago after an RTI reply revealed that food was being served with a subsidy that ranged from 50-90% in the Parliament canteen and during a five-year period in the late 2000s, at least ₹60 crore in subsidy was provided to these facilities. With MPs perceived as the ones largely enjoying the benefit that is paid from the pockets of Indian taxpayer, the issue led to intense debate and discussion. BJP's national vice president Baijayant Jay Panda, then a Biju Janata Dal MP, raised the matter and urged the lawmakers to give up the subsidy, which he felt must be meant for the poorest of the poor. He received some brickbats from his fellow Parliamentarians for his suggestion but there were also others who wanted the subsidy to end because it showed the MPs in the wrong light though this formed only 9% of the canteen sales. To save the decorum of the hallowed legislature, the practice can be done away with, they argued.

Indian MPs do not need canteen subsidy at the expense of taxpayers' money and the decision to give it up makes perfect sense. However, the subsidised facilities are also availed by a number of Parliamentary staff, people from ministries and a host of others. Those who need the subsidy support must be covered after a careful examination.

THE CANCER DOCTOR WITH A HEART OF GOLD

In Dr V Shanta's death, the nation has lost one of its greatest icons. Her towering and compassionate presence at the Adyar Cancer Research Centre in Chennai healed people's hearts for decades. That mattered more than them battling the dreaded disease called cancer, for which they came to her hoping for a miracle cure.

Dr Shanta was an institution by herself, having dedicated her life to the research of cancer and rehabilitation of patients. Many of her patients have stories to share of the trials and tribulations they overcame only because they were under the wing of Dr Shanta and her team of doctors. Hers was a life of a constant search for cure and finding ways to alleviate pain. As a 28-year-old doctor who joined a 12-bed "cottage hospital", she metamorphosed it into an institution, a global one at that, hosting patients suffering from pain in her 400-bed cancer care institute, quietly managing the monetary side of treatment. For Dr Shanta, it was her mission to heal her patients. And she never stopped at that. She believed in their rehabilitation as well, because patients do go through emotional turmoil and may become psychological wrecks. Her stature is incomparable, her compassion and simplicity having touched so many people since 1955 after she chose cancer research over the position of a surgeon at a hospital where she had been selected through the Madras Public Service Commission. Soon multiple awards followed her in this journey, but never once did they make her complacent.

The legend is no longer with us. But her legacy will remain an inspiration in the fight against cancer. Her name has become synonymous with ethics and selflessness of service and her life will always remain an example for doctors. A befitting tribute to her was a poor man who had plucked a few flowers on his way to the crematorium to pay his respects to her. He had said, "I couldn't afford my daughter's treatment anywhere else. I came here because I heard the person who gave us care and life without charging for it is no more." That is Dr Shanta for us.

Hammering the epic too hard on the anvil of historicity and singling out a religion for ridicule have antagonised numerous believers against secularism itself

THE RAMAYANA TRADITION AND INDIAN SECULARISM

JAWHAR SIRCAR

Retired civil servant. Former Culture Secretary and ex-CEO, Prasar Bharati

AMIT BANDRE

Two recent news stories about Ram from two extremes of India, Ayodhya and Ram Setu, would have caught one's attention. Where Ayodhya is concerned, the Pandora's box had actually been opened long ago, in December 1949, when K K K Nair, the not-so-secular district magistrate of Faizabad, facilitated the sudden 'appearance' of Ram-Sita images inside Babri Masjid. This cauldron was kept boiling on medium heat and the several non-communal governments that ruled India and Uttar Pradesh for four decades forgot to turn off the knob. This furnace was, however, stoked quite vigorously after the new BJP (born 1980) achieved a pathetic score of just two seats in the 1984 elections. The Sangh Parivar desperately scoured for an effective weapon when Bhagwan Ram appeared as a godsend. The fact that his exact janmabhoomi had been destroyed and occupied by a mosque was just the perfect agenda for the Sangh. Inadvertently or otherwise, Rajiv Gandhi's government actually bolstered the Sangh's cause—first in 1986, by acquiescing to the opening of the mosque's locks and then, widely telecasting the Ramayan serial over Doordarshan in 1987 and 1988. Therefore, blaming Lal Krishna Advani for his rath yatra that whipped up nationwide frenzy in September-October 1990 appears inane. He was only reaping a ripe harvest. Poor secularism; it died a painful death on 6 December 1992 when the masjid was demolished.

What we miss out in this oft-repeated events-bound narrative is the purport of what Ram and Ramayana really stand for. By focusing excessively on the symptoms and manifestations, rationalists and Left-liberal scholars dismiss it all as mythology. The inescapable fact is that though the BJP surely gained a lot, it did not invent Ram or the Ramayana and the associated tradition. This party bothers little for intellectual callisthenics and is now busy consolidating its position further—by reaching out to the masses to donate towards the construction of the temple. After all, the BJP's earlier campaign in the late 1980s, getting people to sponsor simple Shri Ram-inscribed bricks for the mandir, helped galvanise millions to its cause. This was, indeed, a runaway success and the party would surely love to repeat it now. And whether President Kovind was correct or not in publicly giving money for the temple is purely an academic concern. His predecessor, Pranab Mukherjee, invariably transformed into an orthodox Hindu priest for four days during the annual Durga pujas at his ancestral home, but he remained, nevertheless, unshakeably secular all his life. An Imam's son, A P J Abdul Kalam was proud to be a devout, practising Muslim, but was equally open to Hindu culture, philosophy and swamis as well. President Kovind's benevolence did not, however, create the controversy that some on both sides wished for, and now it is over to actor Akshay Kumar to lead the campaign.

The other smaller news recently was that the government has directed the Archaeological Survey of India (ASI) and the National Institute of Oceanography to examine the age of the Ram Setu shoal and determine the antiquity of Ram's period in history. This sent me back to 2008, when, immediately after assuming charge of the Ministry of Culture, I had to get into fire-fighting mode. The ASI's affidavit sworn before the Supreme Court that there is no historical evidence of Ram and the Ram Setu had created a turbulent storm. Two ASI officers were suspended, and even the prime minister was under considerable attack. But several in the ASI still insisted that this was the hard truth. The shipping channel that was to cut through Sethusamudram was then put into limbo. A dozen years later, the same ASI and a reputed scientific body are all set to prove that Ram's Setu is surely historical.

> Almost every thought and expression in India is based on the Ramayana or Mahabharata. ... Many Left-liberals are so steeped in Western secularism that they are unable to appreciate the reality in India and belittle the faithful for drawing comfort from religion

To hammer the Ramayana too hard on the anvil of historicity may, however, be misplaced, as much of faith is beyond reason. This is true for all religions and singling out any one for ridicule has actually antagonised numerous believers against secularism itself. This concept has two different mutations. The first is the Gandhian one that immerses itself into religious belief and idiom, but treats all faiths equally. The other is the Western model that keeps an antiseptic distance from religion, all religions, and worships rationality. What we forget is that this ideal emerged at a late stage of history, after centuries of bloody religious warfare and long-drawn struggles against the Church for constantly stifling reason and science.

The problem with my fellow secularists is that we are so steeped in Western secularism that we are unable to appreciate that India is totally submerged in religion. Where Hinduism is concerned, its values and moral architecture are built on the lessons elaborated in the hundreds of stories embedded in the two epics and elaborated in the puranas. Collectively, they constitute not only a very federal Bible, they also represent the basic treaty that binds Hindus of different shades, regions, sects and cults. Almost every thought and expression is based on the Ramayana or the Mahabharata. In Euclidean geometry, we accept the point or the line, even when they have no dimension and cannot exist in space. We do so to gain from the consequential superstructure of knowledge. Our same West-inspired approach, however, belittles the faithful in India for drawing comfort from religion and myths.

UNDERSTANDING MAMATA'S NANDIGRAM GAMBLE

UDAY BASU

Political analyst associated with People's Pulse, a Hyderabad-based research group

Trinamool Congress supremo and West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee's announcement earlier this week at Nandigram, the epicentre of the farmers' movement that toppled the Left Front government in 2011, that she will contest the coming Assembly elections from there is as much dramatic as pregnant with political significance.

It's a desperate ploy to take on the rising BJP that is locked in a now-or-never battle to capture Bengal. The Trinamool chief wants to kill several birds with one stone. She seeks to hit the BJP where it hurts it most by throwing the gauntlet at her key leader till recently and now a star BJP campaigner, Suvendu Adhikari, in his home turf. At the same time, she frantically wants to deflect the anti-incumbency factor by reviving the memories of the Nandigram-Singur movement to regain lost ground.

Further, Mamata is on a rather shaky ground in her constituency in Kolkata, Bhowanipore, this time around. A sizeable section of the electorate in this seat are from other states and known to be BJP sympathisers. A two-time MLA from Bhowanipore, she won this seat by over 95,000 votes in 2011 at the height of the Nandigram agitation. But her victory margin came down to 25,000 in the 2016 elections. Trinamool even trailed behind the BJP in the Kolkata Municipal Corporation ward in Bhowanipore by 496 votes in the 2019 Lok Sabha elections when the BJP won 18 of the 42 seats from the state.

The Bengal CM knew her decision to contest from Nandigram would be interpreted as a reflection of her fear of losing the poll in Bhowanipore and so asserted that Nandigram is her "big sister" and Bhowanipore is her "younger sister". She said she might contest from both the seats if possible.

The timing for choosing Nandigram as her electoral constituency is intriguing. The Trinamool was not only without any potent issue to fight the election with, but is on the back foot due to the spate of allegations of corruption and failure to industrialise the state that is the need of the hour. Suddenly, the CM has got on a platter the issue of the farmers' agitation against the BJP government at the Centre. The stiff resistance from farmers of Punjab, Haryana and other states agitating against the three contentious farm laws has kindled the memories of the Singur-Nandigram agitation. She lapped up the opportunity to project herself as a farmers' leader and didn't lose time to extend her support to the agitation.

When Adhikari, the Trinamool's face of Nandigram agitation, recently joined the BJP, the Trinamool chief was at her wit's end. It had been on the cards as Adhikari had resigned as MLA and then minister before joining the saffron party. There was euphoria in the BJP as Adhikari was a prize catch. He has a solid base in the two Midnapore districts (East and West) and the Junglemahal area comprising parts of Purulia, Midnapore, Jhargram and Bankura. The large swathe of area in this belt has 40 Assembly constituencies. Hence, Adhikari can play a crucial role in deciding the electoral fortunes of the BJP and dashing to the ground Trinamool's hopes of retaining power for the third consecutive term.

The CM knows the danger that her one-time protégé is posing. So, she is making the calculated gamble of contesting from Nandigram and taking the battle into Adhikari's home turf. The intention is to stun the BJP and followers of Adhikari and neutralise his influence.

> The Bengal CM is on shaky ground in her constituency in Kolkata, Bhowanipore. She wants to hurt the saffron party by throwing the gauntlet at former Trinamool leader and now star BJP campaigner, Suvendu Adhikari, in his home turf. At the same time, she wants to revive the memories of the Nandigram-Singur movement to regain lost ground

But Adhikari is too battle-worn to be scared of Mamata's challenge. It was he who once succeeded in enlisting the support of the Maoists in Junglemahal during the Nandigram agitation to provide the firepower to the Trinamool when the Left Front was at its peak. His organisational skills are such that he is known to have convinced the Maoists to help the Trinamool overthrow the 34-year-long Marxist regime.

Adhikari won the Nandigram seat in the 2016 Assembly elections by 81,230 votes, the fourth highest victory margin in the state. That is why he immediately accepted the challenge thrown by his former mentor and declared within hours of Mamata's announcement that if he can't defeat her by a margin of over 50,000 votes, he would quit politics.

He also seized the opportunity to needle the CM using her own words delivered at Nandigram with all the histrionics. She had said: "I have always started my campaign for the Assembly polls from Nandigram. It is a lucky place for me. So this time, I feel that I should contest the Assembly polls from here. I would request our state party president Subrata Bakshi to approve my name from this seat."

Adhikari said her words betray her style of functioning that is in sharp contrast to the BJP's. Having been in the Trinamool for years, he said that he knows all decisions are taken by the aunt and the nephew (Mamata and Abhishek Banerjee) as they have reduced the party to a "private limited company". But in the BJP, party candidates are selected through a rigorous organisational process and as such he can't announce right at the moment whether he would fight her in the Nandigram seat. "If my party fields me there, I would defeat her by at least 50,000 votes," he said at a rally in Kolkata after her announcement.

The electoral contest in Nandigram is all set to become the battle of battles. This constituency has nearly 40% Muslim voters, who in Mamata's calculation will not back Adhikari this time as he has joined the BJP. Apart from the Muslims, this seat has a sizable number of Scheduled Caste voters who have been loyal to the Trinamool.

But due to the way Abhishek Banerjee handled the party organisation for two years in Junglemahal areas after the responsibility was taken away from Adhikari in 2016, many party members were antagonised. During the panchayat polls in 2018, even Trinamool members were not allowed to file their nominations by the ruling party. This caused such resentment that the Trinamool suffered reverses in the 2019 Lok Sabha polls. These members are expected to rally behind Adhikari when he takes on Mamata and the Trinamool. It is to be seen whether it is Mamata or Suvendu magic that works from Nandigram this time.

Removing subsidy is good

Lok Sabha Speaker Om Birla deserves kudos for doing away with the subsidies for meals to the MPs in the Lower House. MPs had been getting food and drinks at a fraction of the price that ordinary citizens had to pay. Precaution should be taken to ensure this good deed is not undone by the introduction of a sumptuary allowance for the MPs.

T Hanuman Chowdary, Secunderabad

Saves us crores

It took 70 years of demands for the food subsidies in the Lok Sabha to be removed. This was costing the exchequer around ₹17 crore a year. Stringent measures must also be introduced to tackle the issue of the poor attendance record of many MPs.

K V Raghuram, Wayanad

Extend it to other areas too

The decision to remove the food subsidy is a move in the right direction. This policy should be extended to other areas as well, such as toll fees and other concessions.

Venkatesh Subramanian, Bengaluru

A bleak political future?

It is evident that V K Sasikala, who is slated to walk out of prison on January 27, might remain persona non grata as far as the AIADMK's present leadership is concerned. She may be staring at a bleak political future as she is barred from contesting elections for six years and those who secured party nominations on her recommendation are not supporting her now.

The skills of a homemaker

This is with reference to The economic value of a homemaker's contribution (Jan 19). From household chores to planning family events, homemakers possess multifarious skills that many earning male members cannot match. It is high time the contribution of women to the household is duly recognised.

Doyen of cancer care

The passing away of Dr V Shanta, the doyen of cancer care in India, is quite saddening. In an era where quality and affordable healthcare is out of bounds for many, the Adyar Cancer Institute, which she built and nurtured, is an exception. This messiah shall never be forgotten.

Achieved against all odds

The Indian cricket team's historic win against the Australians in their own soil will be remembered for a long time. It is more sweet as it was achieved against all odds: facing racial abuse, the absence of star players due to injuries, etc.

Jaya Kumar Menon, Ottapalam

Happy selection problem

The Indian team's victory at Brisbane's Gabba loudly announces the arrival of new talents, which may present a problem to selectors. It might now be difficult for them to choose between those who have already proved their mettle and the youngsters who have successfully faced the Australian fire.

Capt Raju Mathai (Retd), Kochi

Rewriting history

The Australians haven't lost at the Gabba since 1988, but Team India rewrote history by scoring 329 runs, clinching the series 2-1 in style. The brilliant performances of the youngsters will be etched in the minds of cricket-crazy fans for a long time.

Why is bonus needed?

The BCCI has announced a bonus of ₹5 crore for the cricket team for winning the Test series. Undoubtedly, the team has scripted a sensational series win against all odds. But as the team members are already being paid handsomely, what is the need for this bonanza?

CJI fumes at aspersions being cast on farm law committee members

Don't malign them for expressing opinions, he says while hearing plea on panel reconstitution

Farmer leaders at Vigyan Bhawan in New Delhi after a meeting with the Centre over the new agriculture laws | PARVEEN NEGI

KANU SARDA @ New Delhi

TAKING strong exception to the aspersions cast on the four-member committee set up the Supreme Court to resolve the stalemate over the agri laws, Chief Justice of India S A Bobde on Wednesday said no one had a right to malign people's reputation.

The remarks came during the hearing of a plea filed by Kisan Mahapanchayat seeking reconstitution of the panel after the recusal of Bharatiya Kisan Union (Mann) leader B S Mann.

The bench headed by the CJI and also comprising Justices A S Bopanna and V Ramasubramanian issued notice to the Centre seeking its response and posted the matter for hearing after two weeks.

During the hearing, senior advocate Dushyant Dave and advocate Prashant Bhushan told the bench that the farmer unions they were representing were not interested in participating in the deliberations to be held by the committee as they were firm on their demand for repeal of the laws.

> If you don't want to appear before the committee, we can't compel you. But you can't malign people like this and cast aspersions on them and the court. We have serious objections that members of the committee are criticised and called names

> Chief Justice of India

"If you don't want to appear before the committee, we can't compel you. But you can't malign people like this and cast aspersions on them and the court. We have serious objections that members of the committee are criticised and called names," the CJI said.

Taking note of submissions that opinions on the panel members had been formed on the basis of media reports about their pro-farm laws views, a visibly annoyed CJI said, "You cannot brand people like this...Everyone argues before a judge as if he is arguing on a clean slate but branding people has become a cultural thing now. Even judges express views during hearing. That doesn't mean they can't decide an issue."

Noting that the basis of the plea was that all its current members had earlier expressed views in favour of the laws and hence, were biased, the CJI questioned, "How do you come to that conclusion? They are brilliant minds in the field of agriculture. They are experts. How can you malign them because they expressed some views in the past?... The Supreme Court appoints a committee and their reputation is torn to shreds."

The bench said the committee had not been given powers to adjudicate and its role was only to hear the grievances of the parties impacted and report to the court.

Govt withdraws plea on tractor rally as SC says won't intervene

KANU SARDA @ New Delhi

THE Centre on Wednesday withdrew its plea seeking an injunction against the proposed tractor rally being planned by the farmers' groups on January 26 against the new agriculture laws after the Supreme Court allowed the Delhi Police to withdraw the application, saying "it is a police matter".

The bench headed by Chief Justice of India S A Bobde refused to keep the application pending, asserting that "this is not a matter for the court to decide. You (the police) have the powers under the law".

During the hearing, Attorney General K K Venugopal informed the court that 5,000 tractors were going to enter Delhi for the rally. Solicitor General Tushar Mehta also demanded that the case be considered on January 25, after seeing how the situation develops.

"No, no. This is not a matter for the court to decide. You have the powers under the law. It's highly inappropriate for the court to act as the first authority to allow or disallow protesters. We can allow you to withdraw the application. You are the executive and you have the power to look into this. It's an issue of law and order and of the police," the court said.

The Delhi Police had approached the SC seeking direction to stop farmers' proposed tractor rally on Republic Day.

"Right to protest is always subject to the countervailing public order and the public interest. The right to protest can never include maligning the nation globally," Delhi Police had submitted.

Advocate Prashant Bhushan, appearing for some farmer unions, said that farmers are convinced that the new farm laws are against them.

"Suppose, we uphold the law then you protest. You counsel them properly. The only rider is to ensure that the people of Delhi are in peace," the bench said. The bench said the authorities can record the statement of Bhushan's clients that they also want peace and they should talk on the issue.

UK MP concerned over NIA notices

British Labour Party MP Tanmanjeet Singh Dhesi has raised the issue of NIA sending notices to a number of people who are associated with the farmers' stir in New Delhi. Asking a question to the Foreign Minister in the Parliament, Dhesi said over 100 members of the House of Commons have signed and sent a cross-party letter to PM Boris Johnson about "our anxieties for the protesting farmers in India".

BJP MP's terror quip triggers row

A BJP lawmaker triggered a row in Rajasthan by alleging terrorists were part of the farmers' protest at Delhi borders. In a video clip, Dausa MP Jaskaur Meena is heard saying, "Terrorists are sitting there with AK-47s and have pitched the Khalistan flag." State BJP spokesperson Ramlal Sharma justified Meena's comment while Congress chief G S Dotasara said the people were ashamed to have voted for her.

Cong to join long march in Mumbai

The Congress in Maharashtra will participate in the 'long march' planned by farmer organisations in Mumbai on January 25 against the agri laws. Former Congress minister Naseem Khan said the party will support the four-day agitation organised by the Akhil Bharatiya Kisan Sabha beginning January 23. State Congress leaders, including chief Balasaheb Thorat, will join the march to Raj Bhavan on January 25.

7.86L HCWs vaccinated, Karnataka takes the lead

SUMI SUKANYA DUTTA @ New Delhi

EVEN as vaccine hesitancy has emerged as a major hurdle in the way of the Centre's ambitious Covid-19 immunisation drive, two southern states — Karnataka and Andhra Pradesh — have reported the highest number of healthcare workers across India to have been vaccinated over the last five days.

Of nearly 7.86 lakh vaccinations carried out till 6 pm on Wednesday, over 26% (or one fourth) were only from these two states, while the inoculation process is yet to gain ground in other populous states. As of Wednesday, 1,19,186 HCWs had taken the vaccine in Karnataka, while 88,145 were inoculated in Andhra Pradesh.

It is, however, not clear what percentage of vaccination targets these states have completed as the Centre has not shared information on the number of beneficiaries in every state. At a press briefing on Tuesday, Union health secretary Rajesh Bhushan had said that Tamil Nadu, Puducherry and Punjab so far registered the lowest coverage of vaccination.

The three states recorded 34.9%, 34.6% and 27.6% coverage respectively, according to the details shared at the briefing. "We are in constant touch with all the states which have registered below 50% uptake to address various issues that they may be facing including technology glitches or vaccine hesitancy," said Bhushan. "We have seen vaccine hesitancy during polio, measles etc., and this isn't a new phenomenon. We will address this through dialogues and ensuring that the concerns are cleared."

Sharing details of the vaccination programme on Wednesday, additional secretary in the ministry Manohar Agnani said four deaths had been reported after they received the vaccine, but three of those fatalities were found unrelated to the vaccination. In the fourth case, the post-mortem report is still awaited. Besides, there have been reports of nine cases of hospitalisations from six states.

Agnani said provisional certificates will be issued to those who have received the first shot and added that a modification is being made in the CoWIN app to allow non-allocated but registered beneficiaries to take the jabs.

'NO VIAL WASTED IN CASE OF ABSENTEEISM'

Health Minister Harsh Vardhan on Wednesday clarified that no vial of Covid-19 vaccine or a session is wasted in case of absenteeism and the jabs are allotted to another beneficiary. Responding to Congress leader P Chidambaram's tweet that there is no point in wasting opened vials with unused doses, Vardhan said: "MoHFW has taken steps to address the issue. In case of absenteeism, vaccines are being allotted to another beneficiary."

Active cases under 2 lakh after 6 months

NEW DELHI: India's active Covid-19 cases tally has dropped below 2 lakh after nearly seven months, indicating that the pandemic situation in a large part of the country may now be under control.

"A landmark achievement today-Active Caseload falls below 2-lakh mark to 1,97,201 (1.86% of total cases) after 6 months 24 days," said the Union Ministry of Health and Family Welfare in a tweet on Wednesday.

As many as 13,823 new cases were reported in the country in the last 24 hours, taking the total caseload to 1,05,95,660 on Wednesday, while with 16,988 more recoveries, the number of discharges reached 1,02,45,741. The death toll mounted to 1,52,718 after 162 more fatalities were recorded in the last 24 hours. The figures suggest that 72% of the active cases are concentrated in just five states — Kerala, Maharashtra, Karnataka, West Bengal and UP. ENS

CWC meet on Friday to zero in on Cong chief

NEW DELHI: The Congress Working Committee, the party's highest decision-making body, will meet on Friday to deliberate on the way forward to elect the new Congress chief.

The meeting comes after several senior Congress leaders have flagged the leadership crisis in the party. The meeting, to be chaired by Congress chief Sonia Gandhi, will be held through video conferencing.

"The CWC will discuss the election and procedures to elect the new party chief," said a Congress source. This follows a report by the Central Election Authority, chaired by Madhusudan Mistry, making certain recommendations on the election to the Congress president's post.

Sonia Gandhi took over as interim Congress president after Rahul Gandhi resigned in the wake of the party's Lok Sabha debacle in May 2019.

The CWC had in its earlier meeting decided to hold organisational elections, following a storm in the party in August last year over a letter to Sonia Gandhi by a group of 23 leaders, including Ghulam Nabi Azad, Anand Sharma, Bhupinder Hooda, Prithviraj Chavan, Kapil Sibal, Manish Tewari and Mukul Wasnik raising these issues. ENS

PM to chair all-party meet on Jan 30

NEW DELHI: Prime Minister Narendra Modi will preside over an all-party meeting on January 30 to seek cooperation during the Budget session of Parliament. The meeting will be held virtually.

The government is gearing up for a stormy session with indications of aggressive Opposition joining ranks to corner the ruling dispensation.

Minister for Parliamentary Affairs Pralhad Joshi on Wednesday said the government will list out the priority legislative business before the floor leaders of all political parties at the customary all-party meeting ahead of Parliament session. The Opposition parties are likely to press for inclusion of some contentious issues for discussion in the agenda of the two Houses.

Defence Minister Rajnath Singh, who is the deputy leader in the Lok Sabha, is learnt to have discussed the NDA's strategy with senior ministers and BJP leaders.

While the government is hoping that the talks with the farmer unions will bear result before the session commences, sources said the Opposition will still be persisting with demands for the adjournment motions in the two Houses.

With the Assembly elections in five states — West Bengal, Assam, Tamil Nadu, Kerala and Puducherry — setting the backdrop for the Opposition to go after the Centre, the government's floor managers will be keen for smooth completion of the Budgetary process. ENS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

US Secretary of Defense nominee Lloyd Austin has said that the Joe Biden administration's objective would be to elevate defence ties with India. "If confirmed, my overarching objective for our defense relationship with India would be to continue elevating the partnership," Austin said while addressing members of the Senate Armed Services Committee during his confirmation hearing.

Austin, a retired General, said that he would operationalise India's status as a major defence partner and ensure that the militaries of the two countries can continue to cooperate on shared interests. "I would also seek to deepen and broaden the defence cooperation between India and the US through the Quad security dialogue and other regional multilateral engagements," he said. On Pakistan, the secretary of defense nominee said that Islamabad has taken steps against anti-Indian groups like Lashkar-e-Taiba and Jaish-e-Mohammed but the progress has been incomplete. He was also of the opinion that Pakistan has taken constructive steps to meet the US expectations with regard to the Intra-Afghan peace process. "Many factors in addition to the security assistance suspension may impact Pakistan's cooperation, including Afghanistan negotiations and the dangerous escalation following the Pulwama terrorist attack," he said and added that he would press Pakistan to not let allow its soil to be used by terrorists and militants as a sanctuary.

Meanwhile, in a way endorsing the India policy of the Trump administration Secretary of State nominee Tony Blinken told members of the powerful Senate Foreign Relations Committee during his confirmation hearing that "India has been a bipartisan success story of our successive administrations".

Modi should come clean on Balakot leak: Cong

NEW DELHI: Leaking sensitive military details is treason and those involved in such "anti-national activities" must be punished, former defence minister AK Antony said as he demanded the PM to come clean in the row involving senior journalist Arnab Goswami.

Antony was joined by party colleagues Ghulam Nabi Azad, Sushilkumar Shinde and Salman Khurshid at a press conference on Wednesday, with the Congress cranking up the pressure on the Centre in the controversy over Goswami's purported WhatsApp chats. On Tuesday, ex-Congress chief Rahul Gandhi had asserted that the leak of sensitive information was a "criminal act".

Antony addresses the media as Shinde, Azad and Khurshid look on | SHEKHAR YADAV

At the press briefing, Antony said those involved in such acts deserve no mercy and an inquiry into the information leak about the Balakot air strikes must be ordered immediately. "Leaking of official secret is a criminal act. Leaking official secret about military operation, national security matters, sensitive military operations especially military strike is treason, anti-national. They have to be punished for anti-national activities, for treason. They deserve no mercy."

India's security has never been compromised in such a way and never have the high offices of the prime minister, home minister and others been brazenly compromised, Antony claimed. Recalling his long stint as defence minister, he asserted, only one of the top five in the government are suspect in this case.

Later, a joint statement by the Congress leaders questioned whether the government had any right left to continue in office after such "damning revelations". "We demand that the prime minister should come clean on these accusations immediately in order to restore the severely damaged credibility of the highest office of the country," they said in the statement. ENS

Clean chit to Kanpur cops as probe finds gangster encounter genuine

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

THE Magisterial and judicial probe into the killing of four criminals in three encounters subsequent to the massacre of eight police personnel in Bikru village in July, last year, has given a clean chit Kanpur police. A customary probe was ordered by the Kanpur DM into the encounter killings, including dreaded gangster Vikas Dubey's who masterminded and executed the massacre of eight policemen, in Bikru village under Chaubeypur police station area in Kanpur Dehat on July 2, last year.

On July 3, Kanpur police had launched a hunt for the killers during which they spotted Vikas Dubey's two accomplices - Prem Kumar Pandey and Atul Dubey -- in Kanshiram Nivada adjacent to Bikru. When the policemen challenged the criminals, they allegedly opened fire and the police team retaliated and eliminated both of them. The probe into this encounter was handed over to Additional District Magistrate (ADM-Land Procurement).

The second encounter killing was that of Prabhat Mishra, . He was eliminated by the police team while being brought to Kanpur from Faridabad in Haryana, where he was arrested. Prabhat tried to escape taking advantage of the punctured tyre of the police vehicle in which he was being transported to Kanpur. The third encounter killing was that of the gangster Vikas Dubey himself. He was shot dead by the sleuths of Special Task Force (STF) of UP police while being brought back to Kanpur from Ujjain in Madhya Pradesh

According to Kanpur DM Alok Tiwari, while judicial probe was ordered into the killing of Vikas Dubey and Prabhat Mishra, Magisterial probe was ordered into the killing of Prem Kumar Pandey and Atul Dubey. "All the three probes have been completed and the policemen have been given a clean chit as the encounter killings were found genuine," he said while addressing media.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kolkata

CHIEF Election Commissioner (CEC), Sunil Arora, reached Kolkata on Wednesday night to take stock of the law and order situation in the State. The CEC was accompanied by election commissioners Sushil Chandra and Rajeev Kumar. They are slated to meet the Chief Electoral Officer (CEO) Ariz Aftab and ADG (Law & Order) Gyanwant Singh.

The CEC arrival follows a meeting Ariz Aftab had with the inspector generals of the CRPF and BSF, P K Singh and A K Singh, respectively. The meeting focused on the availability and the movement of troops before and during the election.

A senior commission official said that the CEC would focus on the prevailing law and order situation. "While the state has executed over 10,000 non-bailable warrants over the past four days, there are over 50,000 warrants pending. We are hopeful that the whole process will be completed in the next ten days," a senior state government official said. The CEC team is slated to hold separate meetings with the political parties, officials of regulatory agencies, district magistrates and police superintendents Thursday. The team will meet the chief secretary, home secretary, director general of police and other senior state officials before leaving on Friday.

Good riddance barb draws two goodbyes

HARDLY 24 hours after the Trinamool Congress chief Mamata Banerjee's 'good riddance' remark on turncoats, two more legislators added their names to the long list of defectors. Bhattacharya, who was elected on Congress ticket in 2016 and later had defected to the TMC, said, "When people like me quit their profession and join politics, they come with a vision. I joined politic to uplift the lot of the people of my constituency. My repeated pleas to the leadership to address the malpractices and corruption had always fallen on deaf years. SHAHNAWAZ TO GET MINISTERIAL BERTH

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ Patna

BJP fast-tracking Shahnawaz Hussain into Nitish Kumar's cabinet is seen as a political masterstroke, which will silence the criticism over the absence of a Muslim face in the dispensation all the while allowing it to gain a foothold in the minority-dominated Seemanchal. While what portfolio would be given to Shahnawaz is not clear yet, sources close to the development said that given his political stature, chances of him helming the education, industry or home ministry are bright.

Nitish had on Monday postponed his cabinet expansion, and with Shahnawaz becoming a part of the equation, things are likely to spice up. NDA sources said that the delay in expansion is due to Shahnawaz entry into Bihar politics through the legislative council route. Sources said that 22 ministers are slated to take the oath of secrecy – 11 from BJP and 11 from JD(U) – when Nitish expands his cabinet, taking the number of ministers to 36.

Shahnawaz was drafted into the Bihar scheme of things after the leadership decided to tackle the Muslim-Yadav (MY) equation, which has been yielding rich dividends to RJD in the minority-dominated areas. Given Shahnawaz's high acceptance among the people cutting across caste and religious lines, the party aims to use his influence to curtail the growth of Assaduddin Owaisi's AIMIM.

Chief ministerial face in near future

While no BJP leader has officially spoken about it, sources in the party's top rung claimed that Hussian may even be projected as the chief ministerial face in the near future

"Shahanwaz Hussian is the lone Muslim face that has wide acceptance among both the Hindus and Muslims. His elevation would not be opposed from within the BJP as well," said a senior BJP leader. While no BJP leader has officially spoken about the developments, sources in the party's top rung claimed that Hussian may even be projected as the chief ministerial face in the near future.

Meanwhile, according to reports, Shahnawaz Hussain, Samrat Chaudhary, Sanjay Saravagi, Sanjeev Chaurasia, Bhagirathi Devi, Nitish Mishra, Pramod Kumar or Rana Randhir Singh, Krishna Kumar Rishi, Sanjay Singh and Ram Pravesh Rai are in line from the BJP camp awaiting ministerial elevation.

14 killed, 18 hurt as boulder-laden lorry crushes two cars in Jalpaiguri

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kolkata

FOURTEEN people died and 18 were injured after two cars were crushed by a boulder-laden lorry that fell on its side after a collision at Dhupguri in Jalpaiguri district on Wednesday. Sources said that the deceased included four children. A preliminary investigation blamed poor visibility due to fog for the accident. The victims were going to attend a marriage reception.

According to the police, the group was enroute to a marriage reception in three cars. When the first vehicle collided with the truck, the truck driver lost control over the vehicle, which rammed into a median before falling on its side, crushing the other two vehicles.

A huge crowd thronged the road, affecting vehicular traffic further. Meanwhile, a lack of equipment delayed the rescue operation. Order was established after the arrival of the local police with a crane. All of the passengers were rushed to Jalpaiguri super specialty hospital, where 14 were declared dead on arrival.

Cong, BJP lock horns over Savarkar's portrait in UP

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

THE BJP and the Congress locked horns over the inauguration of a portrait of Vinayak Damodar Savarkar, also known as Vir Savarkar, in the recently-renovated picture gallery of the Uttar Pradesh Vidhan Parishad (State Council) on Tuesday. After inaugurating the renovated picture gallery, Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath unveiled Savarkar's portrait, saying he was an inspiration for the country.

The Congress took exception to Savarkar's portrait being kept in the gallery alongside those of freedom fighters. Congress MLA Deepak Singh shot off a letter to Vidhan Parishad chairman Ramesh Yadav, seeking the removal of the portrait. "The installation of the portrait of Savarkar among great freedom fighters is an insult to them for they bore all kinds of torture but never bowed down before the British," Singh wrote, adding that the portrait should be shifted to BJP's parliamentary office on Vidhan Bhawan premises.

UP minister Siddharth Nath Singh joined issue with Deepak Singh, saying it was the Congress's misfortune that its leaders and MLCs did not know history. "They want to keep history confined to a family. History is vast," said the minister.

Govt insists on physical hearing in Maratha quota case; SC call on Feb 5

New Delhi: The Supreme Court on Wednesday said it would decide on February 5 the schedule of hearing on the pleas pertaining to the 2018 Maharashtra law granting reservation to Marathas in education and jobs after the state government said a case of this nature be heard once physical hearing commences.

The apex court is presently hearing matters through video-conferencing since March last year amid the COVID-19 pandemic. A five-judge constitution bench headed by Justice Ashok Bhushan was told by senior advocate Mukul Rohatgi, who was appearing for Maharashtra, that the state is requesting for an adjournment and the matter be heard in March. 'Physical meetings are dangerous today,' Rohatgi told the bench, also comprising justices L Nageswara Rao, S Abdul Nazeer, Hemant Gupta and S Ravindra Bhat.

During the hearing conducted through video-conferencing, Rohatgi said there is an interim order against the state and 'it may be appropriate for a case of this nature to be heard once physical hearing commence.' Requesting the bench that the matter may be posted for hearing in March, he said that vaccination for COVID-19 has started in the country and it may take six to eight weeks for the judges and lawyers, who are above the age of 60, to get vaccinated.

'We will take a call after two weeks on what is to be done,' the bench said, adding, 'We will fix date for directions after two weeks. Then, we will finalise the schedule for hearing'.

The bench has posted the matter for February 5 and said it would decide the schedule of hearing. On December 9 last year, the apex court had said that issues pertaining to the 2018 Maharashtra law requires 'urgent hearing' as the legislation has been stayed. PTI

Gujarat govt to rename dragon fruit as 'Kamalam'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mumbai

WHILE the Centre is presumably dealing with the Chinese aggression on the border head on, Gujarat is trying to teach China a lesson in its own humble way. The BJP-led state government plans to rename dragon fruit, which is largely grown in Kutch, Navsari and some other parts of Saurashtra, to 'Kamalam'.

On Thursday, Chief Minister Vijay Rupani said the state government has applied for a patent to change the nomenclature of dragon fruit. "The name dragon fruit is not proper, and due to its name one thinks of China. So we have given it the name Kamalam."

The decision, however, has not gone down well with everybody. Nationalist Congress Party spokesperson Mahesh Tapase alleged the name was changed for political reasons. "Tomorrow BJP will not hesitate to change the country's name," he added.

However, Rupani rubbished the allegation saying there is nothing political about it. "Farmers say it looks like lotus and that is the reason we named it Kamalam," he said.

The fruit is known for its nutritional value and it also helps in increasing the hemoglobin. Rupani said it is the most expensive fruits available in the market at this time.

Congress MLA's regressive comments draw flak

Ex-CM Kamal Nath loyalist former MP minister and senior Congress MLA Sajjan Singh Verma is in trouble over his regressive remarks about raising the marriageable age of girls. The National Commission for Protection of Child Rights (NCPCR) has written to the MP Director General of Police for appropriate action against Verma, after the legislator failed to reply within the stipulated two days, a notice sent to him by the Commission over his statement. As per NCPCR official sources, the case is fit for registering an offence against Vermaa under IPC sections. Recently, while responding to CM Shivraj Singh Chouhan's call for national debate on raising the girls' marriageable age from 18 to 21 years, Verma had said, "what is the need for raising the age, when the girls are medically fit to reproduce at 15 years age."

Trump departs office as the only US president ever impeached twice

Under his watch, Republicans lost the presidency and both chambers of Congress

He will be forever remembered for inciting an insurrection that horrified the country and left 5 people dead

WASHINGTON

HIS presidency over, Donald Trump said farewell to Washington on Wednesday but also hinted about a comeback despite a legacy of chaos, tumult and bitter divisions in the country he led for four years.

"So just a goodbye. We love you," Trump told supporters at Joint Base Andrews in Maryland where he walked across a red carpet and boarded Air Force One to head to Florida. "We will be back in some form."

Trump refused to participate in any of the symbolic passing-of-the-torch traditions surrounding the peaceful transition of power, including inviting the Joe and Jill Biden to the White House for a get-to-know-you visit.

He did follow at least one tradition: A White House spokesman said Trump left behind a note for Biden.

11th hour pardons

President Donald Trump pardoned former chief strategist Steve Bannon in the final hours of his White House term as part of a flurry of clemency action that benefited more than 140 people, including rap performers, ex-members of Congress and other allies of him and his family.

Trump did not pardon himself, despite speculation that he would, in the face of potential federal investigations. He had previously asserted that he had the authority to do so. He also did not pardon his children or his lawyer, Rudy Giuliani.

One pardon recipients was Elliott Broidy, a prominent Republican fundraiser who pleaded guilty last fall in a scheme to lobby the Trump administration to drop an investigation into the looting of a Malaysian wealth fund. Another was Ken Kurson, a friend of Trump son-in-law Jared Kushner who was charged in Oct with cyberstalking during a divorce.

Bannon's pardon was especially notable given that the prosecution was still in its early stages and any trial was months away. Whereas pardon recipients are conventionally thought of as defendants who have faced justice, often by having served at least some prison time, the pardon nullifies the prosecution and effectively eliminates any prospect for punishment. Bannon was charged in August with duping thousands of donors who believed their money would be used to fulfill Trump's chief campaign promise to build a wall along the southern border. Instead, he allegedly diverted over a million dollars, paying a salary to one campaign official and personal expenses for himself. AP

12 National Guard troops removed over extremist threats

A dozen National Guard members were removed from the security operation after vetting by the FBI, including two who had made extremist statements in posts or texts about Wednesday's event. Pentagon officials wouldn't give details on the statements. Two other officials told The Associated Press that all 12 were found to have ties with right-wing militia groups or to have posted extremist views online. The officials, an intel official and an Army official briefed on the matter, did not say which fringe groups the Guard members belonged to.

2 Fox News executives out after Arizona call

Two of Fox News Channel's top news executives involved in the controversial — but correct — election night call of Arizona for Democrat Joe Biden are out at the network. Bill Sammon, senior vice president and managing editor at Fox's Washington bureau, announced his retirement to staff members on Monday. On Tuesday, as part of a restructuring of Fox's digital operations, politics editor Chris Stirewalt was let go. Fox's decision to call Arizona for Biden took the network's anchors by surprise and infuriated the White House, which believed it was premature.

No pardons for Capitol rioters from Trump

Several of those arrested for storming the U.S. Capitol held out hope that President Donald Trump will use some of his last hours in office to grant the rioters a full pardon. Longtime advisers to Trump urged him against such a move but the rioters contended their argument was compelling: They went to the Capitol to support Trump, and now that they are facing charges carrying up to 20 years in prison, it's time for Trump to support them. "I feel like I was basically following my president. I was following what we were called to do. He asked us to fly there. He asked us to be there," said Jenna Ryan, a Dallas real-estate agent.

New immigration bill to cancel per-country cap

WASHINGTON

In his first official acts as US President, Joe Biden will send a comprehensive immigration bill to Congress which among other things proposes to eliminate the per country cap for employment-based green cards, a move that would benefit hundreds and thousands of Indian IT professionals whose current wait period for legal permanent residency runs into several decades.

Called the US Citizenship Act of 2021, the legislation modernises the immigration system, according to an incoming White House official.

It prioritises keeping families together, grows the country's economy, responsibly manages the border with smart investments, addresses the root causes of migration from Central America, and also ensures that the US remains a refuge for those fleeing persecution, said the official, who spoke on condition of anonymity. The bill clears employment-based visa backlogs, recaptures unused visas, reduces lengthy wait times, and eliminates per-country visa caps.

The bill makes it easier for graduates of US universities with advanced degrees, in the Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM) stay in the US; improves access to green cards for workers in lower-wage sectors; and eliminates other unnecessary hurdles for employment-based green cards.

It also provides dependents of H-1B visa holders work authorisation, and children are prevented from 'aging out' of the system. PTI

Trump was right on China, Biden cabinet picks say in hearings

WASHINGTON

PRESIDENT-ELECT Joe Biden's picks to lead economic and foreign policy signaled on Tuesday that there would be no letup in Washington's efforts to combat China's trade abuses.

The comments from the incoming administration reflect an unusual area of common ground with outgoing President Donald Trump, who over the past four years unleashed an aggressive and costly trade war that imposed billions of dollars in punitive tariffs on Chinese goods.

Janet Yellen, Biden's pick for Treasury secretary, and Antony Blinken, who was tapped to lead the State Department, nonetheless emphasized areas of difference, particularly the incoming administration's commitments to working with US allies and promoting investments to make American firms and workers more competitive against Beijing.

Responding to questions from the Senate Finance Committee at her confirmation hearing on Tuesday, Yellen called China "our most important strategic competitor."

She accused Beijing of "undercutting American companies" by offering illegal subsidies, dumping products at below-market prices, stealing intellectual property and erecting barriers to US exports.

"We need to take on China's abusive unfair and illegal practices," she said, adding "we're prepared to use the full array of tools" to address those issues.

Speaking the day before Biden is due to take office, she also vowed to be watchful of the national security implications of China's theft of "trade secrets" and "illegal efforts to acquire critical technology." Biden's transition team pushed for her "swift confirmation" in a statement after her testimony.

Blinken told the Senate foreign ties panel, "President Trump was right in taking a tougher approach to China... I disagree very much with the way he went about it in a number of areas." AP

ANGRY AFTER GENOCIDE ACCUSATIONS, CHINA SANCTIONS POMPEO, OTHER TRUMP OFFICIALS

China is sanctioning more than two dozen officials and members of former President Donald Trump's cabinet, including his secretary of state Mike Pompeo, for violating the country's "sovereignty", its foreign ministry said Wednesday. "China has decided to sanction 28 persons who have seriously violated China's sovereignty," the foreign ministry said in a statement. Sanctioned individuals cannot enter the Chinese mainland, Hong Kong and Macau, and cannot do business with China. Earlier on Wednesday, the ministry described outgoing Pompeo as a "doomsday clown" and said his designation of China as a perpetrator of genocide and crimes against humanity was merely "a piece of wastepaper." The ministry was referring to allegations of abuses against Muslim minority groups in Xinjiang. Beyond Pompeo, those sanctioned include Trump trade advisor Peter Navarro, national security advisor Robert O'Brien, assistant secretary for East Asian and Pacific affairs David Stilwell, health secretary Alex Azar and UN envoy Kelly Craft. Beijing also sanctioned John Bolton and Stephen Bannon.

"Continuing to build relationships with Pakistan's military will provide openings for the United States and Pakistan to cooperate on key issues,' he added. Austin will work to prevent Pakistan being used as a terror sanctuary.

Malaysia is the world's second largest producer of palm oil.

Mask-less foreigners punished with push-ups

Foreigners caught not wearing face masks on the Indonesian resort island of Bali are being subject to an unusual punishment: push-ups. Video footage circulating on social media this week shows tourists in T-shirts and shorts being made to do the exercise in sweltering tropical heat as masked security officials stood over them. Bali authorities made wearing a face mask in public mandatory last year as Indonesia battled a raging Covid-19 outbreak. In recent days, however, scores of foreigners have been caught without face coverings, said security official Gusti Agung Ketut Suryanegara. More than 70 people paid a fine of $7, but about 30 others said they did not have the cash.

Jack Ma resurfaces, ending weeks of silence, speculation

BEIJING

CHINA'S highest-profile entrepreneur, Jack Ma, appeared Wednesday in an online video, ending a 2 1/2-month absence from public view that prompted speculation about the future of the e-commerce billionaire and his Alibaba Group.

In the 50-second video, Ma congratulated teachers supported by his foundation and made no mention of his disappearance or official efforts to tighten control over Alibaba and other internet companies over the past six months. The video appeared on Chinese news and other websites.

The normally voluble Ma disappeared from public view after he irked regulators by criticizing them in an Oct. 24 speech at a Shanghai conference. Days later, regulators suspended the planned stock market debut of Ant Group, a financial platform that grew out of Alibaba's payments service, Alipay.

That prompted speculation online about whether the 56-year-old Ma, China's biggest global business celebrity and a symbol of its tech boom, had been detained or might face legal trouble. Alibaba and the government haven't responded to questions about him.

The Jack Ma Foundation said in a statement Wednesday: "Jack Ma participated in the online ceremony of the annual Rural Teacher Initiative event on January 20."

Ola, Siemens to build advanced EV hub in TN for ₹2,400 cr

BINITA JAISWAL @Chennai

RIDE-HAILING aggregator Ola on Wednesday announced its partnership with Siemens to build India's most advanced electric vehicle manufacturing facility in Tamil Nadu. Last month, the mobility platform signed a ₹2,400-crore-deal with the Tamil Nadu government to set up its first factory in the state. Upon completion, the factory will create almost 10,000 jobs, the company said.

The manufacturing hub in the southern state will be the world's largest scooter manufacturing facility, which will initially have an annual capacity of two million units. The facility will serve as Ola's global manufacturing hub catering to its customers in India as well as key markets across Europe, United Kingdom, Latin America and ANZ. As part of the partnership, Ola will have access to Siemens' integrated 'Digital Twin' design and manufacturing solutions to digitalise and validate product and production ahead of actual operations, it added.

The factory will be AI-Powered with Ola's proprietary AI Engine and tech stack deeply integrated into every aspect of the manufacturing process. "Ola's factory will be built on Industry 4.0 principles and will be the most advanced manufacturing facility in the country. It will have almost 5,000 robots deployed across various functions," a statement said. The entire material handling at Ola's factory will be fully automated for maximum efficiency, right from raw materials to materials movement inside the factory, to storage, to the finished scooter rolling off the production lines and being loaded onto trucks.

"Ola is delighted to partner with Siemens to build the most advanced manufacturing facility in the country. This will be our global hub and will set a benchmark in quality, scale and efficiency, demonstrating India's capability to build world class cutting edge products," said Bhavish Aggarwal, Chairman & Group CEO, Ola.

Entirely automated

The factory will be artificial intelligence-powered with Ola's proprietary AI engine and tech stack deeply integrated into every aspect of the manufacturing process. This will provide unprecedented control, automation and quality to the entire operations.

FinMin suggests restructuring of central schemes

Officials say the share of central government should be reduced in many such schemes

ANURADHA SHUKLA @New Delhi

THE finance ministry has recommended further rationalisation of central schemes as well as the Centre-sponsored schemes as the government looks to cut corners for effective fiscal management.

According to sources in the finance ministry, the Department of Expenditure (DoE) has suggested that there are many schemes where the share of the central government should be reduced. "There is a need to restructure schemes. There are many Centre-sponsored schemes where the share of the Centre is higher, which needs to be rejigged, increasing participation of states. Also, there are schemes which are duplicated by the states. The Centre cannot unilaterally bear the whole burden. The department is evaluating such schemes," a senior official in the department of expenditure told this publication. Central schemes refers to schemes that are fully funded by the Centre such as LPG subsidy, Fertiliser Subsidy, Food Subsidy while centre-sponsored schemes are those where a certain portion of funding requirement is borne by the Centre and the remaining by states like PM Awaas Yojana. The DoE has recommended eliminating such existing schemes as well the sub schemes that are duplicated or have become redundant or ineffective with the passage of time. The official added the central government has already shortlisted about 285 such schemes and recommended re-evaluation.

> The revenue collection is subdued... While the budget is aimed at supporting the economy, it has to be rational also with unnecessary expenditure so that fiscally we are not completely derailed
>
> Govt officials

"This is a very critical juncture. The revenue collection is subdued and we do not see the collection making a complete turnaround before the second half of next financial year. While the budget is aimed at supporting the economy, it has to be rational also with unnecessary expenditure so that fiscally we are not completely derailed," the official explained.

In December, the expenditure department had asked central ministries to send proposals for continuation of ongoing schemes beyond March 31, 2021. "Necessary rationalisation of existing schemes should be ensured by administrative ministries/departments," it said in a office memorandum.

Exemption from paying TCS

FADA had also said auto dealers should be kept out of annual TCS (tax collected at source) of 0.1 per cent saying it is a huge financial burden on the overall automobile retail industry.

FADA urges FM to introduce depreciation benefits against income

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

THE Federation of Automobile Dealers Associations (FADA) has suggested that the government introduce benefits of claiming depreciation on vehicles for individuals paying Income Tax and extend the depreciation period for corporates in the upcoming budget. The auto dealers' body has also sought introduction of incentives for implementation of Vehicle Scrappage Policy across the country.

"Depreciation claims will boost vehicle demand during these extraordinary times, increase the number of individuals filing IT returns and also promote growth in GST collection for the government. The increase in depreciation rate for all types of vehicles which was valid till March 31, 2020 should also be extended for FY21 as it will fuel demand further," the association said.

On the much-delayed Scrappage Policy, FADA said that the government must design a robust Inspection & Certification (I & C) policy or End of Life Vehicles (ELV) policy for vehicles in the country.

"However, as both the above policies would take time to be effectively implemented, there is a need for a scheme based on incentive for encouraging voluntary scrapping of old vehicles and replacing them with newer ones. The new vehicles are cleaner and meet stringent emission requirements," it added. The policy implementation, according to Fada, should be focused on incentives rather than strict mandates. All vehicles registered in India until 31st March 2000 should qualify under the Modern Fleet Vehicle Replacement Scheme.

"The Indian automobile industry is a barometer of the Indian economy and its revival will, in turn, pull up the economy. The auto retail industry, one of the key pillars of India's growth trajectory, contributes about 4.5 million jobs. We look forward to a demand-led growth oriented budget," FADA President Vinkesh Gulati said in a statement.

We have no control over price of goods sold on marketplace: Amazon

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Bengaluru

AMAZON, which was represented by senior advocate Gopal Subramanium, told the Karnataka High Court on Wednesday that the e-marketplace has no special agreements with sellers and has no control over the product prices being sold on the platform.

The Karnataka HC has been asked by the Supreme Court to decide on the stay in the Competition Commision of India (CCI) probe into alleged anti-competitive practices of e-commerce firms. The HC had last year stayed the probe by the country's regulator, following which CCI filed a petition before the apex court seeking vacation of the stay. Subramanium argued that an e-marketplace like Amazon is the facilitator of the competition and in fact the probe ordered by the CCI is a "flagrant violation of the competition act".

As against the accusations made by Delhi Vyapar Sangh, an affiliate of the traders body Confederation of All India traders (CAIT), Amazon said that it has not entered into any selective agreement with sellers like Cloudtail and Appario who have been alleged to control 70 per cent of the marketplace sales. Subramanium also told the court that these are not Amazon's entities and no one from the e-tailer's board of directors controls these companies. The marketplace hosts exclusive launches of smartphone brands, but the same offers are available on the brand websites. Regarding allegations of deep discounting, he said that market retail prices are slashed by brands during sales in which the Amazon have no say. The Karnataka HC has decided to hear the matter now on day-today basis and the matter has been now adjourned till Thursday. While calling the CCI probe ordered on January 13, 2020 ' perverse, arbitrary, untenable in law," Amazon had earlier said that the order has the potential to cause 'irreversible loss to the reputation of the company."

Maruti kicks off export of Made-in-India Jimny

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

INDIA's largest carmaker Maruti Suzuki India (MSIL) on Wednesday said it has commenced export of its celebrated compact off-roader Jimny from India. The first shipment of 184 units was released from Gujarat Mundra port to Latin American countries such as Columbia and Peru. The three-door Suzuki Jimny, which is produced in MSIL's Gurugram plant, will exported to Latin America, Middle East and African markets from India.

MSIL, however, is yet to confirm a date for Jimny's launch in India. According to multiple reports, the carmaker is likely to launch a five-door version of the vehicle in India during the second half of 2021.

Known as the 'authentic off-roader', the all-terrain vehicle has a legacy of over 50 years, catering to customers worldwide. The current generation of Jimny was launched in 2018 by Suzuki Motor Corporation in Japan and has emerged as a popular choice globally. With India as a production base for Jimny, Suzuki aims to leverage its global production stature. As there is a large demand worldwide well beyond Suzuki Japan capacity for this model, Indian manufacturing will supplement capacity to meet this global demand.

"Jimny will fulfill aspirations of customers throughout the world. Jimny manufactured at Maruti Suzuki's Gurugram plant shares the same specification as the export models produced at the Suzuki Motor Corporation's Kosai plant in Japan. We are confident with Jimny we will be able to enhance our overall exports," said Kenichi Ayukawa, Managing Director & CEO, Maruti Suzuki India. In December 2020, MSIL's exports rose 31 per cent to 9,938.

India Inc eyes demand push in Budget 2021

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

THE upcoming Budget 2021-22 must reinvigorate demand, focus on increasing outlay for infrastructure and social sector projects, says India Inc.

"The Budget must focus on creating demand, encourage infrastructure spending and increase outlays for the social sector. These are the top three macroeconomic themes, which members of India Inc would like to see in the upcoming Budget," a survey conducted by Ficci and Dhruva Advisors showed. Besides, the budget should also continue with the Centre's policy focus on strengthening the manufacturing sector while promoting research and development (R&D) and incentivising new technologies, according to the survey.

"Demand has improved in a few sectors of the economy, but we need to watch this trend to see if the improvement continues in a sustained manner. There are many other sectors that still require continued government support in the recovery process. Given this, strengthening demand should be a clear priority and the tax policy should be used to meet this objective," the survey report said. According to the survey results, about 40 per cent of the participants feel that 'personal tax relief' should be the key theme of direct tax proposals. Further, nearly 47 per cent have sought 'widening of the tax slabs' in the budget.

Federal Bank Q3 profit declines 8%, restructured book half of estimates

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

FEDERAL Bank has reported an 8 per cent decline in third quarter standalone net profit at ₹404 crore against ₹441 crore in the year-ago quarter owing to higher provisions against potential bad loans. The Kerala-headquartered lender's provisions grew 84 per cent to ₹559 crore in the Q3 compared with ₹303 crore in Q2.

Gross non-performing assets (NPA) declined to ₹3470 crore during the period under review compared to ₹3552 crore in the September quarter. As a percentage of total assets, gross NPA stood at 2.71 per cent at the end of December compared to 2.84 per cent in Q2. The gross NPA would have been 3.38 per cent after taking into account the non-performa slippages.

In terms of operating performance, net interest income/ NII (difference between interest earned and interest expended) was up 24 per cent y-o-y to ₹1,437 crore (₹1,155 crore). According to Shyam Srinivasan, MD and CEO, said the growth in NII came on the back of a six per cent credit growth, indicating that interest income streams are well-structured. With a 67 per cent year-on-year surge, gold loans powered the loan book growth. The share of gold loans in the total portfolio is over 11 per cent as of December.

On restructuring, the bank said it has so far restructured corporate and retail loans of ₹1067 crore, including ₹663 crore in the December quarter, which is less than half of its expectations. "Against our initial expectation of accounts aggregating about ₹3,500 crore getting restructured, we now expect covid-19 restructuring to be about ₹1,500 crore in FY21, which is about 1.5 per cent of our loan book as MSME accounts of about ₹400 crore are yet to be restructured," the management said in a conference call.

> We have seen good growth in retail, gold loans and even agri loans and we expect these to contribute to loan growth... the corporate loan book may not give us material growth — Shyam Srinivasan

Naidu bats for more youth participation in farming

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Bengaluru

VICE-PRESIDENT Venkaiah Naidu on Wednesday urged India Inc to encourage India's youth and women towards the agriculture sector and that efforts should be afoot to prevent brain drain from the industry.

Naidu, while inaugurating National Dialogue- a national conference focussed on discussing policies for transforming agriculture in India for the next decade, said, "For agriculture to be sustainable, it has to be considered holistically and all the elements such as livestock, poultry, fisheries, apiculture etc need to be included."

He called for the need to recognise the increasing feminization of agriculture in India and frame suitable policies prioritising women farmers. He also underlined the need to prevent agro brain drain and attract youth to farming by promoting agri-entrepreneurship.

The conference is being organised by the Niti Aayog, Ministry of Agriculture and Farmers Welfare (MoAFW) and Food and Agriculture Organisation(FAO) of the United Nations. Parshottambhai Rupala, Minister of State for Agriculture and Farmers Welfare said that the government is committed to boost agricultural productivity. "India should now become a destination for organic and healthy food. The Prime Minister has set the national target of doubling farmers' income.

Towards this, the country has made considerable strides in creating digital systems for smart agriculture. There are also a number of programmes to address post-harvest losses," the minister said. He also underlined the measures undertaken to combat the threat of desert locust in 2020 and minimize crop losses.

"For us, we fought hard and did our very best, but we were outplayed."

'PAIN HELPED ME CONCENTRATE'

Vihari reveals what went inside his mind during Sydney heroics

VENKATA KRISHNA B @ Chennai

Without Sydney, there wouldn't have been a Brisbane. Ravi Shastri echoed the same sentiment during a touching dressing room speech on Tuesday. One of the main protagonists of that match in Sydney, Hanuma Vihari, followed endgame from home in Hyderabad. In an interview with TNIE, he also spoke about what it was like to bat on with a dodgy hamstring. Excerpts

Has it sunk in?
I was overwhelmed while watching it. The last couple of overs gave me goosebumps. The entire squad — players, support staff — put in a lot of work, so it is quite amazing when you think of what we have done. I'm really proud of being part of this epic series.

How was it watching the last day at the Gabba?
I could relate to what (Cheteshwar) Pujara was going through because he was fighting hard and it was similar to the resilience shown by (R) Ashwin and me in Sydney. All the batsmen who batted in SCG knew what was coming because we learned a lot from it. They knew what each bowler was going to do. The result was different in Gabba and like (Ajinkya) Rahane said, SCG was as good as a win because that was the reason why we were alive going to Brisbane.

What was going through your mind when you walked into SCG on Day 5?
Win was always there in my mind. Once I got injured and Pujara got dismissed, Ashwin and myself were clear that we have to bat through the overs. A win was not possible as I couldn't run. We took it one over at a time. When we took tea, we didn't expect to bat out the entire final session because there was 35 overs left. And against that bowling attack, that was a lot to survive. Which is why we narrowed it to one over at a time.

On Australian attack...
When you play well and score runs against a quality attack, it always gives satisfaction. The reason why the whole of India is celebrating it is because of the quality of their team, especially their attack. I feel it is the No 1 in the world. The trajectory, the areas in which they bowl and the pace... it is very challenging. To beat them in their own backyard won't happen very often and we have done it twice in two years.

With the pain, how hard it was to concentrate?
It was tough, as I could not even stand still. I would say the pain helped me. I wasn't looking for runs, the only thing that was in mind was to block the balls. And I trusted my defence to do that. Sometimes when you are looking for runs, you tend to play one shot too many and you can get greedy at times. So when you are only trying to defend and though the pain is there, I had a simple game plan: watch the ball and play as close to the body as possible. At SCG, it was like an open net where you were facing only quality bowlers but you are saving the Test for India. The pain was bad, but I was enjoying the challenge as it was a new experience for me.

How was it to be with (Mohammed) Siraj when he lost his father?
He is a brave guy. To lose your father during an away series but to still hang in there was courageous. His attitude was brilliant and he never complained. It was phenomenal. I have known him for long. When he made his first class debut for Hyderabad, I was the captain and I handed him the cap. So that feeling is always there. I look at him as a brother with whom I have a special connection. I knew what he was going through. He needed the support at the time and I was happy to lend my shoulders. I am happy how he performed.

Washington state: Calm & composed

SRINIDHI PR @ Chennai

BY nature Washington Sundar is a quiet person. He doesn't speak until spoken to. He loves his solitary walks. He lives in his own world and comes across as a soft person. On the cricket field, he changes like those mutants in movies. The bat and ball in hand work as weapons with a strong mind that refuses to give up, even under extreme pressure. During his maiden Test against Australia at the Gabba, he was in his elements.

Washington's childhood coach, M Senthilnathan, succinctly reveals the other side. "He doesn't express much (on and off the field) but deep down, he tells himself not to give up," said the MRF Pace Foundation director. "Even at state-level competitions, he doesn't throw away his wicket. That's something which will keep him in good stead, moving forward."

Facing Australian bowlers is not alien to him. According to Senthilnathan, he faced a few Aussie quickies during exposure trips at the foundation. Another facet that Senthilnathan emphasised was his strong basics. This enabled him to play solid knocks of 62 off 144 balls and 22 off 29 in the historic fourth Test at Brisbane. He also picked up a four wicket-haul on his debut.

The 21-year-old's coach felt it was the time he spent at the MRF foundation that helped him to negotiate the world-class Australian attack in Brisbane. As a teenager, he would spend endless hours facing quality fast bowlers on bouncy wickets at the academy and then play spin on turning tracks all over Chennai in the Tamil Nadu Cricket Association's division league matches.

"He is gritty," Senthilnathan recalled. "At 13-14 years of age, he started practicing on wickets that were bouncy and conducive to fast bowling. He faced quality fast bowlers as a teen. Automatically, he was able to put his technique to best use and negotiate the pace of the quicks in his debut match. He was not surprised because he is used to that kind of speed at the academy . This experience, back home, came in handy in Brisbane." To many, his knock was a surprise but not to Senthilnathan because 'he has nailed the basics'.

Kerala snatch 3 points against Bengaluru

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

KERALA Blasters came back from a goal down to beat Bengaluru FC 2-1 in a dramatic finish in the ISL at the GMC Stadium on Wednesday. After Cleiton Silva scored the opener for Naushad Moosa's men, two second half strikes from Lalthathanga Khawlhring and Rahul KP, who scored in the stoppage time, helped Kerala register their third win of the season. It is Bengaluru's fifth loss in their last six games.

Bengaluru took lead as Silva showed some great technique with his volley to keep the ball down and find the back of the net in the 24th minute.

Kerala impressed in the second half and managed to score the all-important equaliser in the 73rd minute via Lalthathanga Khawlhring in a controversial situation. After Hooper's shot was blocked by Gurpreet Singh Sandhu, who went down because of the impact of the shot, the ball rolled towards the right hand side. The resultant cross was finished from close range even as Sandhu was down.

And they clinched the game late in stoppage time as Rahul struck in the 94th minute with a wonderful finish to take home three points.

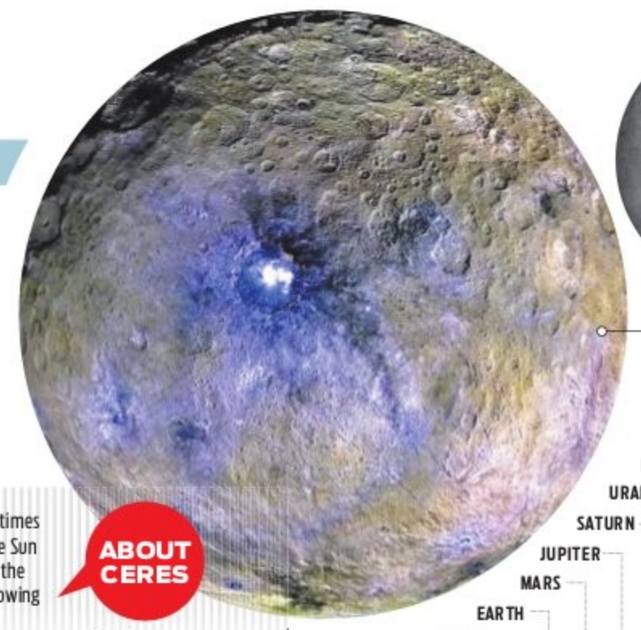
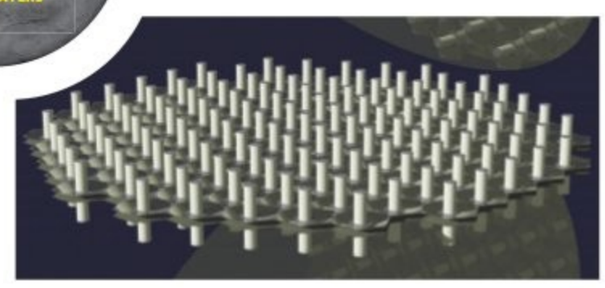
DITCH MARS & BUILD A FLOATING HABITAT

While SpaceX's Elon Musk is looking to Mars as the first off-Earth civilisation, one scientist has his sights set on the dwarf planet Ceres, formed from similar material that is available in the solar system. A look at the research...





WHAT'S THE MATTER?

Physicist Pekka Janhunen (In pic) from Finnish Meteorological Institute revealed his plan to construct a 'megasatellite' that orbits the planet located in the asteroid belt between Mars and Jupiter. The disk-shaped habitat would house thousands of cylindrical structures, each home to more than 50,000 people, which linked together by magnets

590 MILES Ceres is 590 miles across and was discovered in 1801

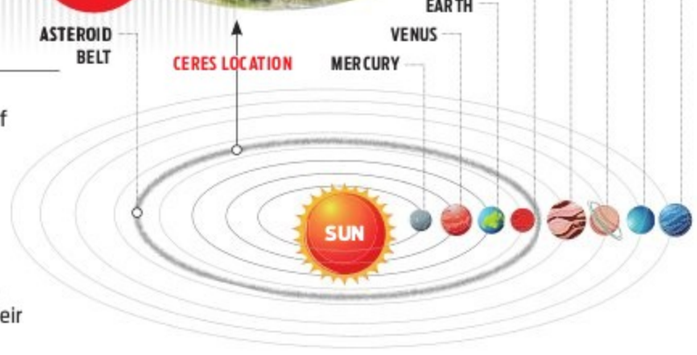
It is the closest dwarf planet to the Sun and is located in the asteroid belt, making it the only dwarf planet in the inner solar system

*It lies less than three times as far as Earth from the Sun — close enough to feel the warmth of the star, allowing ice to melt and reform

ABOUT CERES



WHY CERES?

Its average distance from Earth is comparable to that of Mars, physicist Pekka Janhune wrote, making travel relatively easy — but the dwarf planet also has a big elemental advantage. Ceres is rich in nitrogen, which would be crucial in developing the orbiting settlement's atmosphere (Earth's atmosphere is roughly 79% nitrogen)

Rather than building a colony on the surface of the tiny world — Ceres has a radius roughly 1/13th that of Earth — settlers could utilise space elevators to transfer raw materials from the planet directly up to their orbiting habitats

LACKS KEY CONSIDERATIONS

One key element that isn't mentioned in the paper is phosphorus, according to experts. The human body relies on phosphorus to create DNA, RNA and ATP (a vital form of energy storage in cells). Janhunen's proposal doesn't address where or how this critical element would be obtained

The second caveat is the technology. Collecting nitrogen and other raw materials from Ceres would require mining the planet's surface and extracting those elements from the rocks. This operation likely wouldn't be possible without a fleet of autonomous mining vehicles ready to deploy on Ceres, plus satellites to guide them to the most viable nutrient-rich deposits

OTHER FEATURES

The colony's main features will be two enormous glass mirrors, angled at 45 degrees relative to the disk in order to reflect just enough natural sunlight into each habitat. Part of each cylinder will be devoted to growing crops and trees, planted in a 5-foot-thick bed of soil derived from raw materials from Ceres. The natural sunlight should keep them growing strong

WELCOME TO DISK WORLD

According to Janhunen's proposal, each cylinder of the Ceres megasatellite would produce its own gravity through rotation

Each cylindrical habitat would measure about 6.2 miles long, have a radius of 0.6 miles and complete a full rotation every 66 seconds to generate the centrifugal force needed to simulate Earth-like gravity

A single cylinder could comfortably hold about 57,000 people, and would be held in place next to its neighbouring cylinders through powerful magnets, like those used in magnetic levitation

Reduce air pollution, save 50K lives in Europe

Study says cities with crowded streets and high usage of energy feel the brunt; reducing NO_2 level crucial

HEALTH

PARIS: Limiting air pollution to levels recommended by the World Health Organisation (WHO) could prevent more than 50,000 deaths in Europe annually, according to research published Wednesday that called for urgent action.

The WHO estimates that air pollution kills more than seven million people each year and is one of the leading causes of sickness and absenteeism globally. Cities, with their crowded streets and high energy use, are hotspots for illness and disease linked to air pollution. The WHO recommends that fine particulate matter (PM2.5) not exceed 10 milligrammes per cubic metre of air, averaged annually. For nitrous oxide (NO2), the threshold not to be exceeded is 40 mg/m3.

Wednesday's study, published in the Lancet Planetary Health journal, estimated the premature death burden due to these two pollutants in nearly 1,000 cities across Europe. It found that reducing PM2.5 and NO2 to safe WHO levels could prevent 51,213 premature deaths each year.

Nearly 125,000 deaths annually could be saved if air pollution levels were reduced to the lowest recorded in the study, its authors said. Mark Nieuwenhuijsen of the Barcelona Institute for Global Health (ISGlobal) said the research "proves that many cities are still not doing enough to tackle air pollution." "Levels above WHO guidelines are leading to unneccessary deaths," he said.

Using city-specific data on air pollution models combined with mortality figures, the researchers formed a "mortality burden score" ranking individual cities from best to worst.

Deaths due to air pollution varied widely, with NO2 levels in Madrid, for example, responsible for seven percent of annual deaths there. Cities in the Po-Valley region of northern Italy, Poland, and the Czech Republic were the highest in mortality burden, with the Italian cities of Brescia, Bergamo and Vicenza all within the top five for PM2.5 concentrations.

Those with the lowest mortality burden included Tromso in Norway, Umea in Sweden and Oulu in Finland, as well as the Icelandic capital Reykjavik. On average, 84 percent of the population in cities studied were exposed to PM2.5 levels above the WHO guideline. Nine percent were exposed to higher-than-recommended NO2 levels, the study found.

Sasha Khomenko, study co-author from ISGlobal, said that it was important to implement local emissions reductions measures.

Oxygen thefts mount in Mexico

MEDICINE

MEXICO CITY: Thefts of oxygen mounted as Mexico reported its highest daily death toll since the coronavirus pandemic began, with 1,584 deaths confirmed Tuesday. There was also a near-record one-day rise in new virus cases of 18,894.

The Mexican Social Security Institute reported that an armed man burst into a government hospital in northern Sonora state around noon Tuesday and stole seven oxygen tanks. The institute said the man pointed a gun at a hospital employee, demanded to know where the oxygen was kept, and took four empty cannisters and three full ones. Authorities in the city of Navajoa are looking for the man and and another suspect who drove off in a car carrying the tanks.

Also on Tuesday, police in the town of Tultepec, just north of Mexico City, chased down a small freight truck carrying 44 oxygen tanks, after the truck was reported stolen. Two suspects were detained at the scene. The thefts came as authorities launched a campaign urging people to return rented oxygen tanks they no longer need, saying enormous demand amid the pandemic has created a shortage of the cylinders.

The consumer affairs agency launched an online campaign under the slogan 'Return Your Tank, For The Love of Life.' With hospitals in Mexico City and other states overwhelmed by a wave of Covid-19 cases, many families have turned to treating their relatives at home with supplementary oxygen, creating spot shortages of tanks and oxygen for refills. But once patients recover, the agency said, many people simply keep the cannisters just in case someone else falls ill.

Mexico has seen almost 1.67 million confirmed coronavirus infections and almost 143,000 test-confirmed deaths related to coronavirus. The country's Defense Department, meanwhile, said four doses of coronavirus vaccine were stolen at a public hospital in Cuernavaca, south of Mexico City.

FACT OF THE MATTER

Fire threat in California

ENVIRONMENT

Months-old embers from a deadly California fire were blown back to life Tuesday by powerful winds that raked the state and prompted safety blackouts to tens of thousands of people. Firefighters chased wind-driven blazes up and down the state, trees and trucks were toppled, Yosemite National Park was forced to close and two coronavirus vaccination centres were shut down. South of San Francisco, the state's firefighting agency said it responded to 13 vegetation fires in San Mateo and Santa Cruz counties in 12 hours, and isolated evacuations were ordered for 120 homes. The fires were small and by nightfall were 'creeping" rather than racing.

WHEN the USA catches a cold, the whole world sneezes, so it's about time they come out of hibernation and back onto the world stage, believes Dr Viqar Syed, a second-generation American, who currently lives in Bengaluru. There's much excitement in his family and friends' circles, with Joe Biden and Kamala Harris finally taking over the office as president and vice president, respectively, of the United States. The last term, expats unanimously agree, was nothing short of exhaustive. "Biden has all the great qualities and characters expected from a US president. He can connect with all Americans to bring them back together after the divisions that have been created by the outgoing president. Of course, it will take time and he has too much on his hands to tackle, including Covid," says the cancer care entrepreneur and oncologist.

Meredith Mehra was particularly invested in this election, especially with her teenage children closely following the proceedings. "Biden's vision for the country is what interests us since there's much healing that America has to go through," says Mehra, who works at the Canadian International School. The pandemic only furthered this interest with Mehra looking at how the new candidates will tackle the raging pandemic, which has severely impacted the economy and country. Not to forget, the vaccine roll-out and the increase in its supply are also important. "Of course, the first 100 days will be important with the cabinet to be formed and things to take shape," says Mehra, who hails from the East Coast in Boston, and has now been in India for the last 12 years.

With the elections being the much-talked about topic over the last several months, Prasanna Kumar, founder of Blr Brewing Co, found it only right to organise a screening of the swearing-in ceremony. The restaurant set up two projectors for the same. "This is just like IPL or any other sports event. We have a lot of corporates coming into our restaurant – considering our location in Electronics City – and we felt it's relevant to our profile of customers," he says, adding, "We have to keep pace with the trend."

Having spent over a decade in the US, Candice Lock Mirchandani, head chef and partner at Chinita, shares the excitement that's in the air. "It was incredibly upsetting to see what happened. Hopefully, it won't be too violent," says Mirchandani, who now looks at the entire happenings from an "outsiders' point of view." Or as Syed sums it best, "Wherever we may be, we are definitely enthused and hoping for a better tomorrow for the US and the world at large."

When Italy meets India

Vimal Chandran, the only Indian artist to be a part of Lamborghini's global project, takes us through his creation, which was inspired by the Italian company's cars and his Indian roots

LIKHITHA P NAIR

A couple of months ago, in a small village near Pattambi, Palakkad, a curious teenager was wandering at dawn, collecting baby coconuts to make a little toy car out of. As he looked up, he saw something hiding in the shrubs — eyes shining, its fluorescent green camouflaged against his village's greenery. When he saw the sports car smiling back at him, the boy almost believed he was dreaming. Kerala-bred, Bengaluru-based artist Vimal Chandran's entire village woke up to this visitor from the future that day – a Lamborghini Huracan in Verde Mantis, an acclaimed 5204 cc sports car from the Italian manufacturer. Vimal is the only Indian artist to be part of 'With Italy, For Italy', a global photography and art project by Lamborghini. It started in Italy in September 2020, featuring 20 of Italy's finest photographers discovering the beauty of 20 Italian regions aboard a Lamborghini, thus signaling the rebirth of the country following the Covid-19 emergency. This project was later extended to countries in the Asia Pacific region.

"When I crafted the idea around my village, I imagined bringing the past and present together. Lamborghini, to me, signifies the future – in terms of design and technology. My village, on the other hand, is a mystical land with strong roots to the past, with temples and demigods, paddy fields, slow moving lives and curious eyes," says Vimal.

Much like he imagined, the sports car fit well into the village's weave — borrowing its green from the paddy fields, tail lights slicing through the village's dusk, racing down its zig-zag roads. "I was not keen on placing the popular art forms like Kathakali because it wouldn't be authentic. Everything in that video has ties to my past — poothan, thira and kaali were the gods our people worshipped. The velichappadu is a lingering presence that watches over the village. The idea was to keep all of that intact," says Vimal. The video, which can be viewed on his Instagram and YouTube, was created in collaboration with Ordinary Secrets Films and Sharan Velayudhan, known for his work in Soubin Shahir-starrer Ambili.

Woman power

Giving women entrepreneurs a thrust in these tough times is K Ratna Prabha, who fills CE in on life post her stint as chief secretary

VIDYA IYENGAR

Her days are as busy, or should we say busier, than they were during her service as an IAS officer. K Ratna Prabha, who rose to the rank of chief secretary before retiring in June 2018 after 37 years, continues to immerse herself in several initiatives post retirement. Closest to her is empowering women, which she is striving hard to do through UBUNTU (meaning 'I am, because you are' in Zulu). This is an all-women consortium that helps women entrepreneurs face challenges amidst the Covid-19 pandemic. "We want to strengthen women by helping them scale up their businesses and amplify entrepreneur dynamism at both state and national level. It's about creating a conducive women entrepreneurship ecosystem in India," she says, adding, "We want to make the associations strong rather than going directly to entrepreneurs. Currently, we have 24 associations from six states, and 15,000 members on the platform." They provide business advisory services and support to women entrepreneurs and SMEs.

In association with the United Nations Development Programme, Karnataka, UBUNTU led a project named 'Covid-19 Udyog Sahayavani' and set up an MSME Udyog Sahayavani help desk for a period of six months. The consortium has also signed an MoU with Global Alliance for Mass Entrepreneurship (GAME) to help women entrepreneurship grow in the country. With this, UBUNTU will provide the ecosystem support for GAME's 'Xcelerator Bengaluru' programme and expand its activities to more districts in Karnataka.

Despite being the first woman in many of her postings, Prabha says she never faced any sort of gender discrimination. "There's competition no doubt, but that's in every field. There's no measure of success without competition, and that requires one to work hard to get recognised," she says. She speaks from personal experience, pointing to the fight for the post of chief secretary when she was to take over. "There was a sense of insecurity from male colleagues who didn't like it. But that's a mindset that has to change. But I don't let myself be bothered by such things," says Prabha, who was Karnataka's third woman chief secretary after Teresa Bhattacharya (2000) and Malati Das (2006). At the same time, she emphasises that men have played a crucial part in UBUNTU. "There was this one programme when former Chief Minister Siddaramaiah said he would come for five minutes and ended up spending more than an hour. So whether it's Congress MLA R V Deshpande or current Chief Minister BS Yediyurappa, all of them have given us a boost," she says.

frankly speaking

Soon after retirement, Prabha took over as chairperson of Skill Development Authority but things have been slow paced since Covid-19 hit in March. "Every time I think I need some time and space, I find myself thinking of work," says Prabha, who admittedly loves being burdened with work.

She hails from a family of high achievers – her father; husband, K Vidyasagar, and brother being civil servants, and her mother and brother both being doctors. But today, Prabha feels, the options aren't restricted to medicine, engineering or teaching. Like her daughter, a writer who has been associated with Hindi and Telugu shows, has multiple interests – short films and chocolate making, among others.

"My family is very creative," says Prabha, who has also authored a book, Chronicles of an AC Saab. "My son, on the other hand, is a lawyer who is mostly involved only in his job," she says.

MOORDHASANA

(CROWN-BASED POSE)

In Sanskrit, 'Moordha' means 'crown-based' and 'asana' means 'pose'. This is a standing yoga pose that works on your lower body. It has anti-ageing benefits. It improves your immunity and disease resistance. Practising this asana regularly can help regulate and prevent hormonal imbalances in both females and males. This asana helps in toning the mind and body as the blood flows to the head. It helps in developing balancing skills of the body and increases flexibility. As a preliminary pose to Sirshasana, it accustoms the brain to the increased influx of blood to the crown.

STEPS

- Stand erect with your legs 3-4 feet apart, or as far as you can manage, without losing balance.
- Bend the body at the hips and place the hands directly in front of the feet.
- Try to place the crown of the head on the ground between the hands.
- Breathe in, raise your arms and clasp the hands behind the back.
- At this stage, raise the heels and balance on the head and toes.
- Maintain this pose for a minute and then place the hands on the ground.
- Raise your head and return to the erect position.
- After a short rest, repeat the pose 2 or 3 times.

BENEFITS

- Helps in the case of low blood pressure.
- Strengthens the neck muscles and brings a rich supply of blood to the brain.
- Helps balance the nervous system of the body.
- Helps to retain the breath inside while assuming and returning from the pose.
- This pose involves normal breathing once balance has been attained.

LIMITATIONS

- Don't practise this pose if you have high blood pressure, heart conditions, inflammation of the ear or weak eye capillaries, cold or sinusitis.
- Those suffering from slipped disc, weak spine or vertigo, severe asthma, cerebral or other thrombosis, should avoid this asana.

MANAGING THE NEW MUTATION

Here's everything you need to know about the new strain of the coronavirus, from where it emerged and what symptoms it produces

DR DINESH KAMATH

When was the new strain identified and how is it being observed in different parts of the world?
The new variant of Covid-19 virus emerged at the end of 2020 and appears to be more contagious. The new strain is scientifically known by mix of letters and numbers: SARS-COV-2 VOC 202012/01, 501Y.V1 It was first detected in UK late September. By November, it was most dominant form of virus among people infected in South East England. Similar mutated viruses have also been seen in South Africa. These new viruses try to evolve to enhance their own replication and transmission rates. It is predicted that by Feb. 1, more than 90 per cent of Covid infections in the UK would be caused by this strain. It is also expected to become the dominant variant in the US by March.

How is the new variant transmissible?
One study has already shown the new variant to be 56 per cent more transmissible. It has a higher 'Secondary Attack Rate' which means each case infects more people. Also infected people appear to have a higher viral load carrying 10 to 100 times more virus in their nose and throat. Though this strain is more transmissible, it is less virulent. But because it spreads more rapidly, it could infect more people and causes more deaths.

Where was the new coronavirus detected? What are the symptoms?
The new strain is detected by genome sequencing in special Genome Consortium Lab's recognised by the Indian government in various states. All these positive patients have been kept for observation and treatment in single rooms in designated hospitals. All their contacts have been traced and kept under quarantine for observation. Three common symptoms found were fever, cough and loss of smell and taste. The other new seven symptoms were: Fatigue, headache, muscular weakness, loss of appetite, diarrhea, mental weakness and skin rashes.

How is the recovery rate?
Though the new variant is fast spreading and infecting more people, it is found to be less virulent and people are not so sick when compared to the previous infection. The recovery rate is also very good.

Will the vaccines be effective against it?
Most of the vaccines were designed to recognise multiple features and multiple mutations that could occur. Initial results from a lab in Texas suggest that current vaccines remain effective against the new variant. Maybe it could suffer a modest reduction in efficacy by 10 to 15 per cent.

What precautions must be taken?
Don't panic. Continue taking precautions like wearing masks, maintaining distance, washing hands regularly and limiting interactions in public places.

VACCINE VOCAB

What does the Covid-19 vaccine contain? Who can get it? What happens after you get the jab? Here are answers to some commonly asked questions that explain the vaccination process better

DR NEHA MISHRA

Which vaccines have been approved in India?
Covishield and Covaxin. Covishield has been manufactured by the Serum Institute of India and is a chimpanzee adenovirus vector vaccine encoding the SARS-CoV-2 Spike (S) glycoprotein. Covaxin has been developed by Bharat Biotech and contains the inactive virus.

Are they effective and safe?
Both the vaccines have gone through rigorous animal and human trials before they have been approved for use. Phase 3 trial for Covishield proved the efficacy to be around 70 per cent, with no major adverse events. The duration of protection is yet to be established. Data available for Covaxin also suggest the efficacy of 60-70 per cent with no major side-effects. This vaccine has been currently granted 'Restricted Emergency approval for use' in India.

Where can I get vaccinated?
The vaccine is not freely available in the market for public yet. At present, it is available only through the Government of India. The government has decided to roll out the vaccine in a prioritised way, the healthcare workers being the priority followed by the front-line workers, and those aged above 50 years or those with associated co-morbidities.

How is the vaccine administered and how many shots are required?
Both available vaccines are given in the muscle (intra-muscular route) and are recommended for administration in two separate doses, 0.5 ml each at four weeks interval. Both shots received have to be of the same vaccine.

Does the vaccine contain live virus?
No. They contain only a part of the viral protein or inactive virus, which enables your body to produce neutralising antibodies against it.

Is getting vaccinated compulsory if I am above 50 or in high-risk category?
No, at present the vaccine is voluntary. Individuals can't choose between the vaccines.

Is the vaccine safe in children?
Current studies available did not include children below 18 years. At present, it is approved for use only in those aged 18 years and above.

Can I get vaccinated if I am pregnant or breastfeeding?
As there are no studies done in pregnant and lactating female, the vaccine should be avoided in such patients due to lack of data.

Am I eligible for vaccination, if I have recently recovered from Covid-19?
Yes, you can also take the vaccine, although it is advisable for a patient with acute infection to wait for 14 days after symptom resolution.

Who should not get vaccinated?
Vaccine should be avoided in pregnant and lactating mothers and in persons with severe allergic reaction to previous vaccines or its contents. Patient who are suffering from any acute illness or Covid patients who were treated with plasma therapy or monoclonal antibodies should also defer the vaccine temporarily.

I have diabetes with coronary artery disease. Can I get the vaccine?
Yes, patients with immunosuppressive disease including diabetes, HIV, CKD, cancer, post transplants, cardiac disorders as well as chronic lung diseases can get the vaccine.

Can I get infected even after receiving the vaccine?
Though the vaccine is safe and effective in the majority, people might get affected despite Covid-19 vaccination. None of the approved vaccines have 100 per cent efficacy.

What adverse effects should I watch out for after taking the vaccine?
The common side effects are usually mild ones like injection site pain, fatigue, fever, headache, nausea and joint pain or muscle ache.

Can I get rid of masks/social distancing after getting vaccinated?
No, because no vaccine is 100 per cent protective, it does not prevent virus transmission and it takes time to develop antibodies (minimum 14 days after the second dose).

Why is vaccine so important?
In the past, vaccines have been the answer to most infectious diseases that have affected human kind, like polio or small pox. With the vaccine in place, it's a relief that we are moving towards the lasting solution to Covid. The vaccines are adequately checked for safety and efficacy before they are approved for public use. Hence, with minor acceptable adverse events, it is recommended to get vaccinated to halt the pandemic.

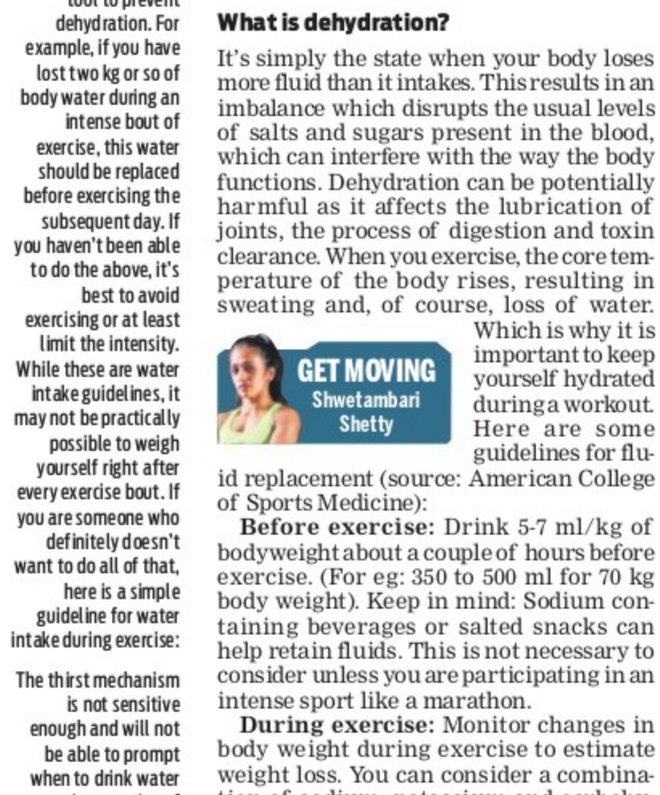
NUGGETS

Obesity may increase mental health issues in teens

A study, published in the journal Acta Paediatrica, indicated that over half of the parents estimated that their obese teenagers had difficulties resembling ADHD and/or autism, despite only a few of them having been previously diagnosed with these conditions. "Symptoms of ADHD mean that the person has difficulty with impulse control. This increases the risk of eating without being hungry and the tendency to opt for quick solutions such as fast food," said researcher Kajsa Jarvholm from Lund University in Sweden. - IANS

Alcohol intake up in people with depression amid pandemic

A study, published in the journal Preventive Medicine, indicates that while drinking grew the most among younger people, older adults with anxiety and depression saw a sharper increase in their risk for harmful alcohol use. "This increase in drinking, particularly among the people with anxiety and depression, is consistent with concerns that the pandemic may be triggering an epidemic of problematic alcohol use," said author Ariadna Capasso from the New York University. - IANS



Glug and play

For those who undertake intensive exercising

Recording body weight daily is a great tool to prevent dehydration. For example, if you have lost two kg or so of body water during an intense bout of exercise, this water should be replaced before exercising the subsequent day. If you haven't been able to do the above, it's best to avoid exercising or at least limit the intensity. While these are water intake guidelines, it may not be practically possible to weigh yourself right after every exercise bout. If you are someone who definitely doesn't want to do all of that, here is a simple guideline for water intake during exercise:

The thirst mechanism is not sensitive enough and will not be able to prompt when to drink water irrespective of excessive sweating

Keep sipping water at regular intervals during exercise whether or not you are thirsty

Frequent consumption of small amounts of fluid can avoid sweat-related weight loss

Rehydration with water is adequate and you don't need any sports drinks as such, unless you are working out in extreme weather conditions.

We all know that hydration is an important factor when it comes to basic functioning of the body. To add a bit of context, let me quickly explain what is dehydration and then I will list some guidelines for water intake in and around your exercise routine.

What is dehydration?

It's simply the state when your body loses more fluid than it intakes. This results in an imbalance which disrupts the usual levels of salts and sugars present in the blood, which can interfere with the way the body functions. Dehydration can be potentially harmful as it affects the lubrication of joints, the process of digestion and toxin clearance. When you exercise, the core temperature of the body rises, resulting in sweating and, of course, loss of water. Which is why it is important to keep yourself hydrated during a workout. Here are some guidelines for fluid replacement (source: American College of Sports Medicine):

Before exercise: Drink 5-7 ml/kg of bodyweight about a couple of hours before exercise. (For eg: 350 to 500 ml for 70 kg body weight). Keep in mind: Sodium containing beverages or salted snacks can help retain fluids. This is not necessary to consider unless you are participating in an intense sport like a marathon.

During exercise: Monitor changes in body weight during exercise to estimate weight loss. You can consider a combination of sodium, potassium and carbohydrates during exercise. Keep in mind: The amount and rate of fluid replacement sometimes depends upon individual sweating rate, the environment (hot/cold/humid) and exercise duration.

After exercise: Consumption of normal meals and beverages will restore hydration. In case of excessive sweating, where you might have lost more than two per cent of body weight, drink 1.5 litre/ kg of body weight lost. This is mostly relevant for intense sports in extreme weather conditions. Keep in mind: The goal is to fully restore fluid and electrolyte deficits.

An important thing to note here is that this is only before, during and after workout. It does not factor in the fluid loss that can happen in other activities, for which it's best to keep sipping some water throughout the day.

Movement that is timeless

Surely time is movement. That is very simple. From here to there, both chronologically as well as psychologically. A distance to be covered, a distance between 'what is' and 'what should be'. The distance to arrive at a goal, at a purpose requires time. If one wants to learn a language that requires time. So perhaps we have brought over the learning something which requires time, into the field of the psyche. Do you follow? You understand what I am saying? We need time to learn any technique, to drive a car, to learn a language, to understand and work the electronics and so on, you need a great deal of time, to fly an aeroplane. That same attitude has been brought over into the psychological field: we need time to be perfect. We need time to get over something. We need time to be free of our anxiety, to be free of our sorrow, to be free of our fear and so on. See what we have done. Where time is necessary, which is in the field of technology, that need has been introduced into the psychological world and we have accepted it - for all nations to wipe away their nationalities needs time; to become brotherly we need time and so on and so on, so on. Now we are questioning that together. We are questioning whether there is any psychological time at all. Because psychological time implies hope - the world is mad, let's hope in the future there will be a sane world. So we are questioning together whether there is an action which is not involved in time at all. You're getting... We are meeting together? Action brought about by a cause, by a motive needs time. Right? Action which has a pattern of memory, and to put that pattern into action needs time. If you have an ideal, however noble, however beautiful, romantic and all the rest of it, however nonsensical even, it needs time to arrive at that idealistic state. So to arrive at that, destroy the present. It doesn't matter what happens to you, what is important is the future. For the sake of the marvellous future sacrifice yourself! And that future is established by the ideologists - Marx, Engle, you know, all the rest of it, all the religious teachers and so on, throughout the world. So we are questioning that - whether there is any psychological time at all, and therefore - please go into this very carefully - no hope. Dante in his Inferno said, 'Those who enter here have no hope'. You know, all that. We are questioning this. This is a very serious thing. Please don't come to any conclusion yet - 'What shall I do if I have no hope?' Hope is so important because that gives you satisfaction, energy, drive, to achieve something.

Now when you look closely, non-sentimentally, logically, is there psychological time at all? There is psychological time only when you move away from 'what is'. Right? You are getting this? That is, there is psychological time when one realises one is violent, and one proceeds to enquire how to be free of it, that movement away from 'what is' is time. But after investigation and so on, so on, if one is totally completely aware of 'what is', then there is no time.

A SHARADHAA

THE year 2021 is slowly opening doors to entertainment, and Aniissh's Ramarjuna will be the first commercial entertainer to hit screens this year, when it gets released on Jan. 29. Aniissh is happy that some of the leading names of the industry are extending support to him for his directorial debut. Ramarjuna also has him playing the lead role, as well as taking up production responsibilities. While Rakshit Shetty recently hopped on board as the co-producer and will be presenting the film to cinema halls, another announcement came from producer-distributor Karthik Gowda, who will be distributing the film under his banner, KRG Studios. "So Rakshitshetty and we, @krgstudios come together to present and release this high voltage entertainer "Ramarjuna" * @I_am_Anish & @nishivkaa. Directed by Anish himself. Release grand all over Karnataka on 29th January," (sic) the distributor announced on Twitter.

Aniissh is excited and happy that both Rakshit and Karthik watched the film, and are confident about the product. "They then decided to come on board, and they are the reasons for Ramarjuna to have a theatrical release," says Aniissh, who is fine with the film getting released when theatres are allowed 50 per cent occupancy. "The Tamil film industry has shown with Master, and so did the Telugu industry that recently released Krack and Red, that theatre releases are possible. Even in the case of the Kannada movie industry, it is a matter of survival, and this is our bread and butter. So we have to take this initiative," says Aniissh.

Meanwhile, the actor-director is busy with the last-minute post-production work. He will be releasing the film's trailer on Jan. 23. Ramarjuna is produced under the banner of Winkwhistle Productions. It has music by Anand Rajavikram, while dialogues have been written by Shankar Rama and Kiran Chandra, and action stunts are by Vikram Mor. It will have Naveen Kumar S cranking the camera. The cast also comprises Rangayana Raghu, Sharath Lohithaswha, Hanumantha Goru, Arjuna Balaraj, Rajubhalvadi, Swathi and Manju Pavagada.

Biopic announced on Col.Narinder 'Bull' Kumar

CE FEATURES

A biopic has been announced on the life of Colonel Narinder "Bull" Kumar, a late soldier and mountaineer who carried out dangerous reconnaissance trips to Siachen and elsewhere for India.

In 1981, Colonel Narinder and his team lay claim to the highest peaks at altitudes beyond 24,000 feet and planted the tri-colour there. They did this without any maps or high-tech equipment - their boots were not waterproof, and their jackets were not made of down feather. They had to navigate tricky crevasses and stay ahead of avalanches while braving temperatures that dipped to a numbing -50 degrees celsius. The "reconnaissance" mission was not an official army operation. That meant that if Bull Kumar and his band of brothers were to fall into enemy hands, no one would claim them.

Colonel Narinder passed away on December 31 last year. He was 87. The rights to his biopic have been acquired by producers Ramon Chibb and Anku Pande.

Ramon is a former army officer from the same regiment as Colonel Narinder Kumar. He has previously directed big-ticket armed forces shows for National Geographic Channel and is the creative consultant for all things related to army for Aamir Khan's Laal Singh Chaddha. He has also written the story and screenplay for Fighter, the recently announced action film starring Hrithik and Deepika Padukone.

"We are elated as a team to be the ones to bring this extremely amazing story of heroism and true leadership to the screens soon," Ramon said. "We are grateful to Late Colonel Narinder "Bull" Kumar's family to trust us and give us the responsibility to retell his deeply inspiring story for celluloid and give us the opportunity to do our part in forever commemorating his life into a film reel."

Written by Balwinder Singh Janjua, Bull is expected to kick start soon. The film's cast is yet to be announced.

'Sarfarosh 2 dedicated to CRPF personnel'

CE FEATURES

FILMMAKER John Matthew Matthan says his upcoming film Sarfarosh 2 is dedicated to Central Reserve Police Force (CRPF) personnel.

Matthan shot to Bollywood fame and also won the National Award for his 1999 superhit Sarfarosh. The film marked his directorial debut, and starred Naseeruddin Shah, Aamir Khan and Sonali Bendre.

Talking about the script of the sequel, Matthan said: "I wrote the script of Sarfarosh 2 about five to six times, before finalising it. When I wrote the script, I looked at its criticism and kept it aside. After five to six months, I started writing it again and came across new potholes. This is actually the fifth script of Sarfarosh 2, which has been finalised. You have to have good friends who are critical of you."

He added that the film is about the internal security of India. "It shows how India's security stands strong in spite of various problems," he noted, adding that he would be dedicating the film to CRPF personnel, who bear the brunt of these problems.

The first film, although a gritty spy thriller, had a few hit songs. Opening up on the possibility of songs sequel, Matthan said: "Songs have a purpose in movies. At the time when this movie was made, music was a big component in terms of revenue. I did not like the idea of having two romantic songs in the film," he said.

Reflecting on the songs of the Aamir Khan and Sonali Bendre-starrer, he revealed: "The much-admired ghazal Hoshwalon ko khabar kya was significant as it conveyed a dual message. It threw light on the India-Pakistan situation, apart from adding to the love story."
